Discover the worth of character, the warmth of a smile, the reassurance of a glance, and the love in a thought; for they are the sunshine of people.

Parties, pageants, pep rallies, and receptions enabled students to look ahead and see the doors opening to those who turn the key. A key to all places, all people, and all unknown. A key to the future.

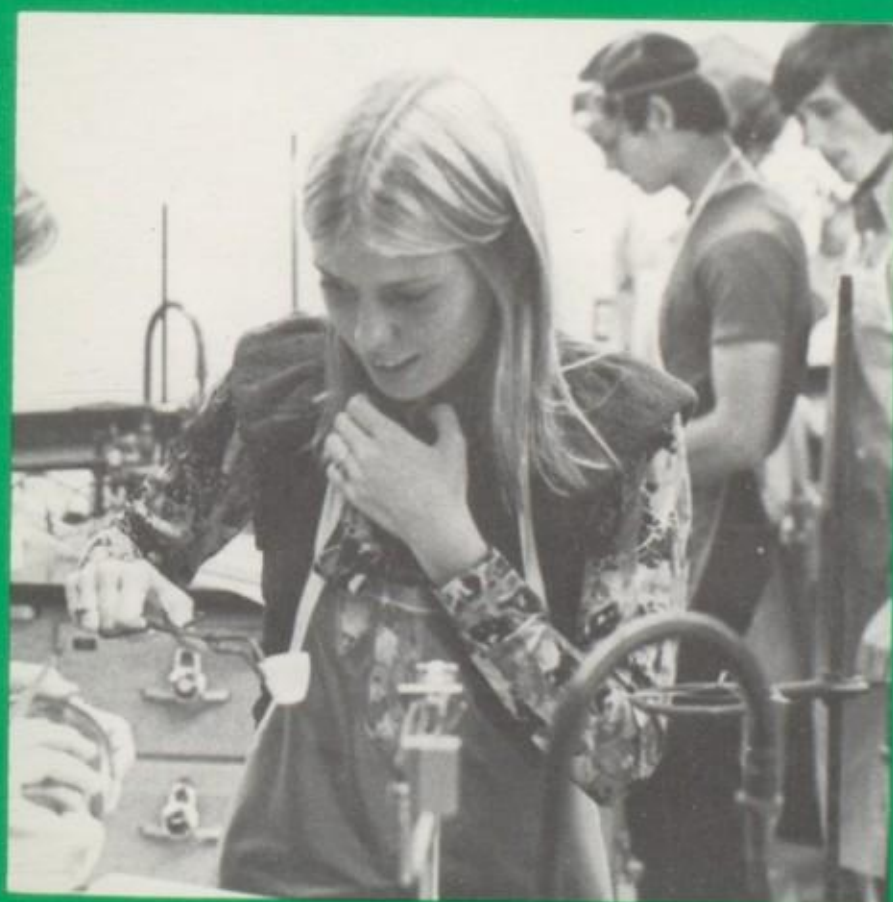

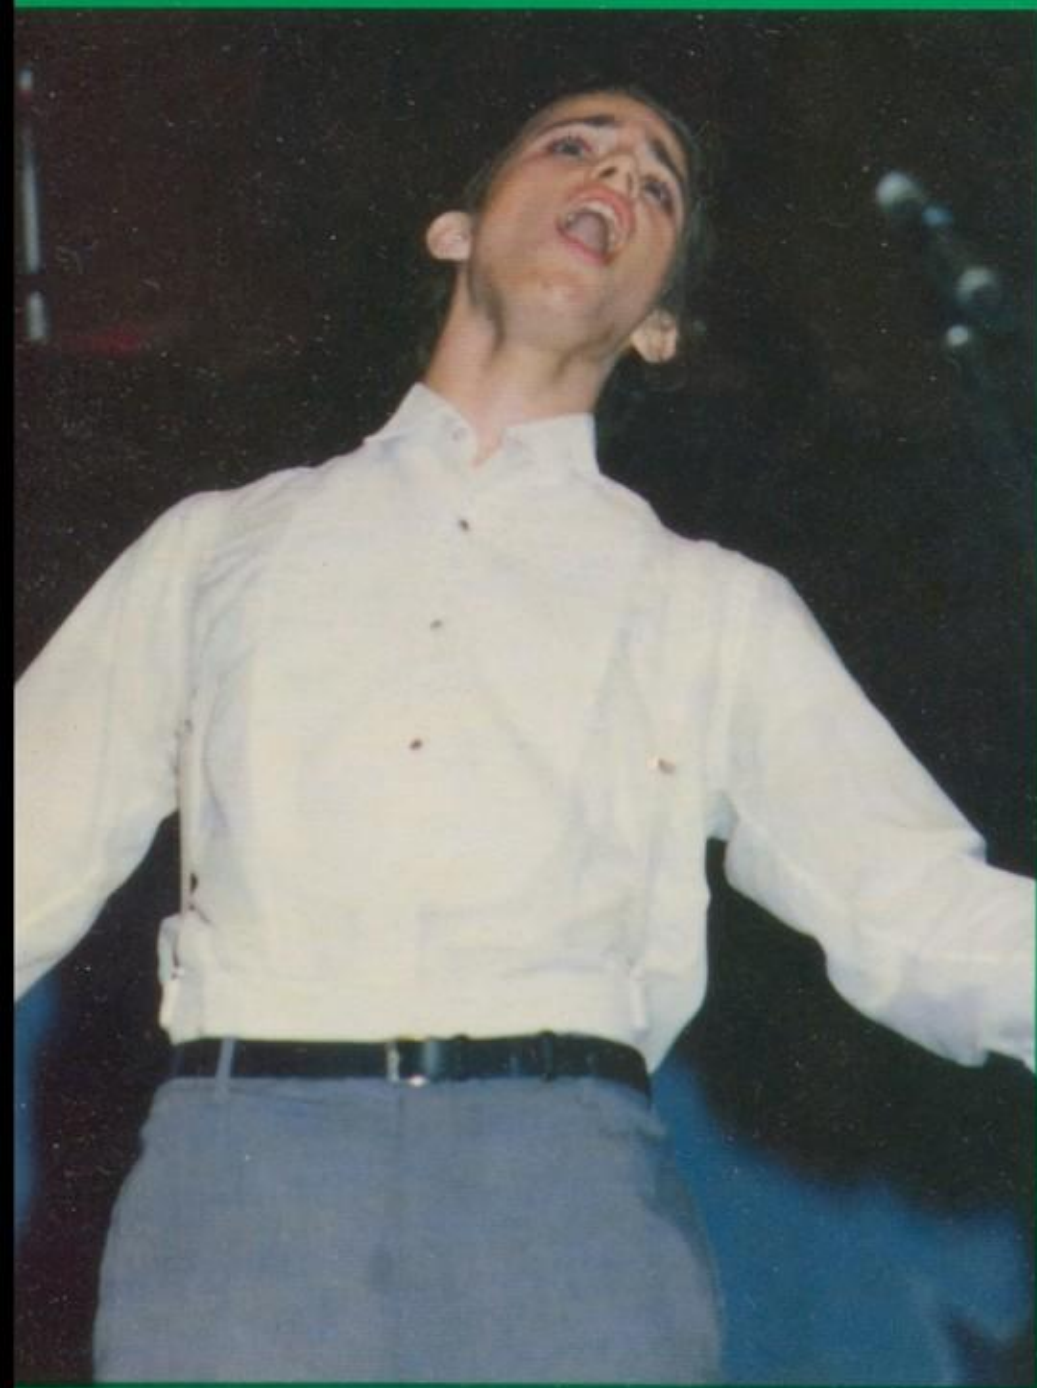

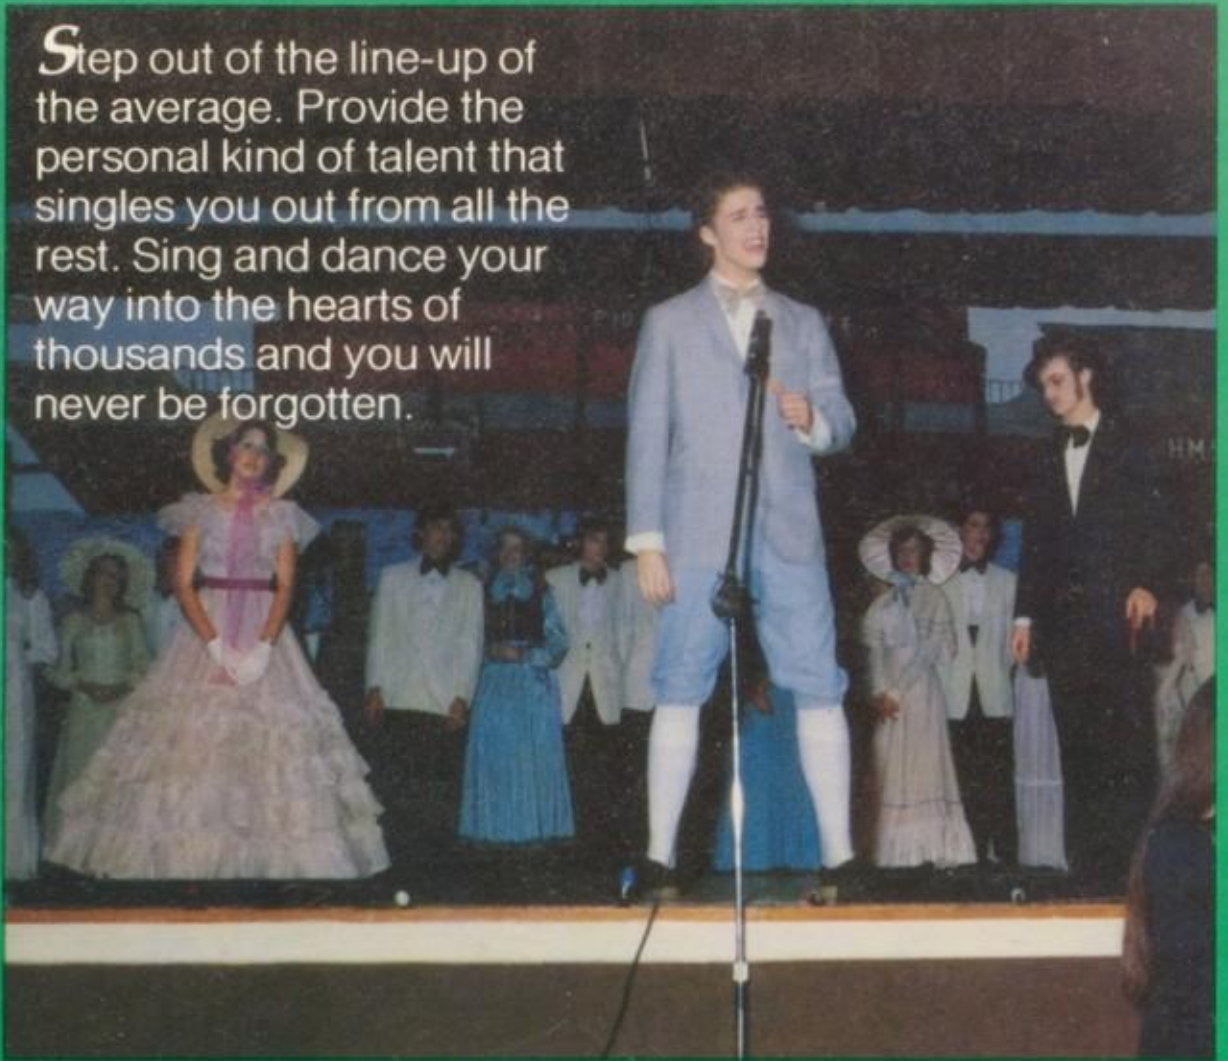

The freedom found in friendship allowed us to define ourselves, our feelings. Keeping score could not compete with playing our very own games or examining a working machine of ourselves and of our friends.

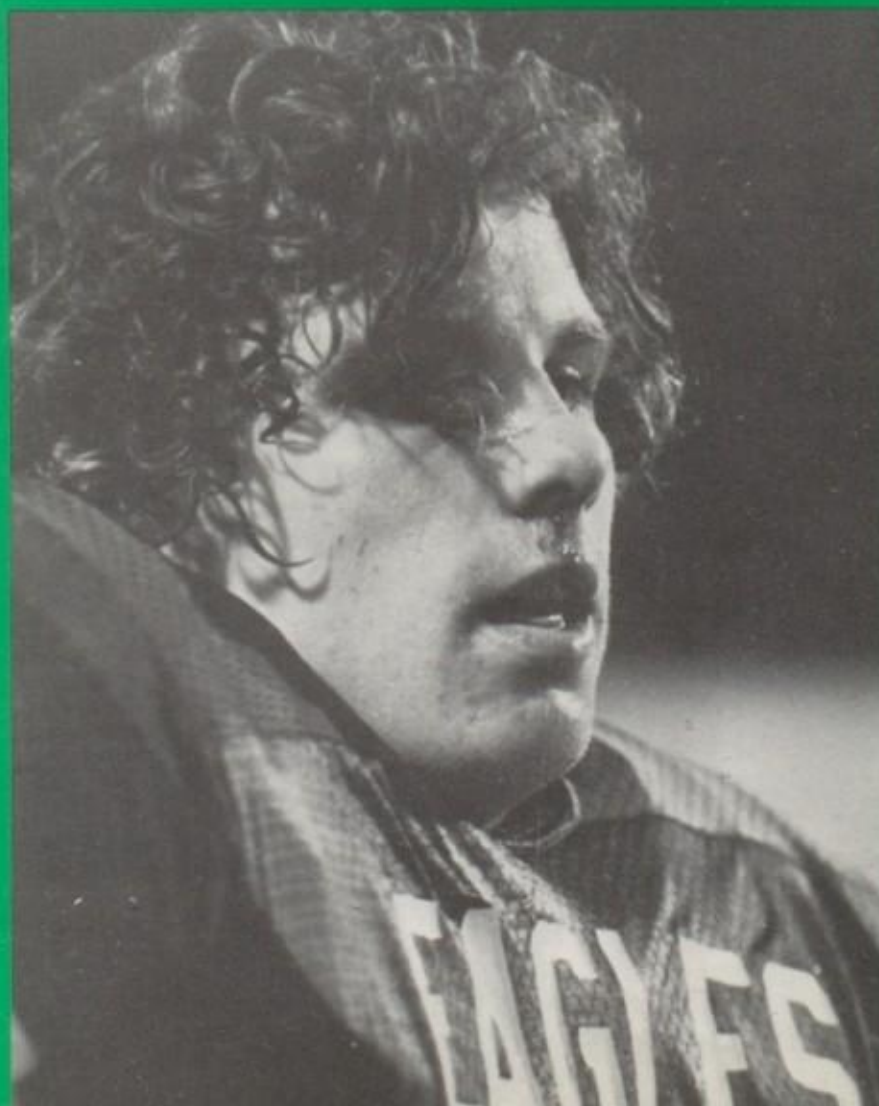

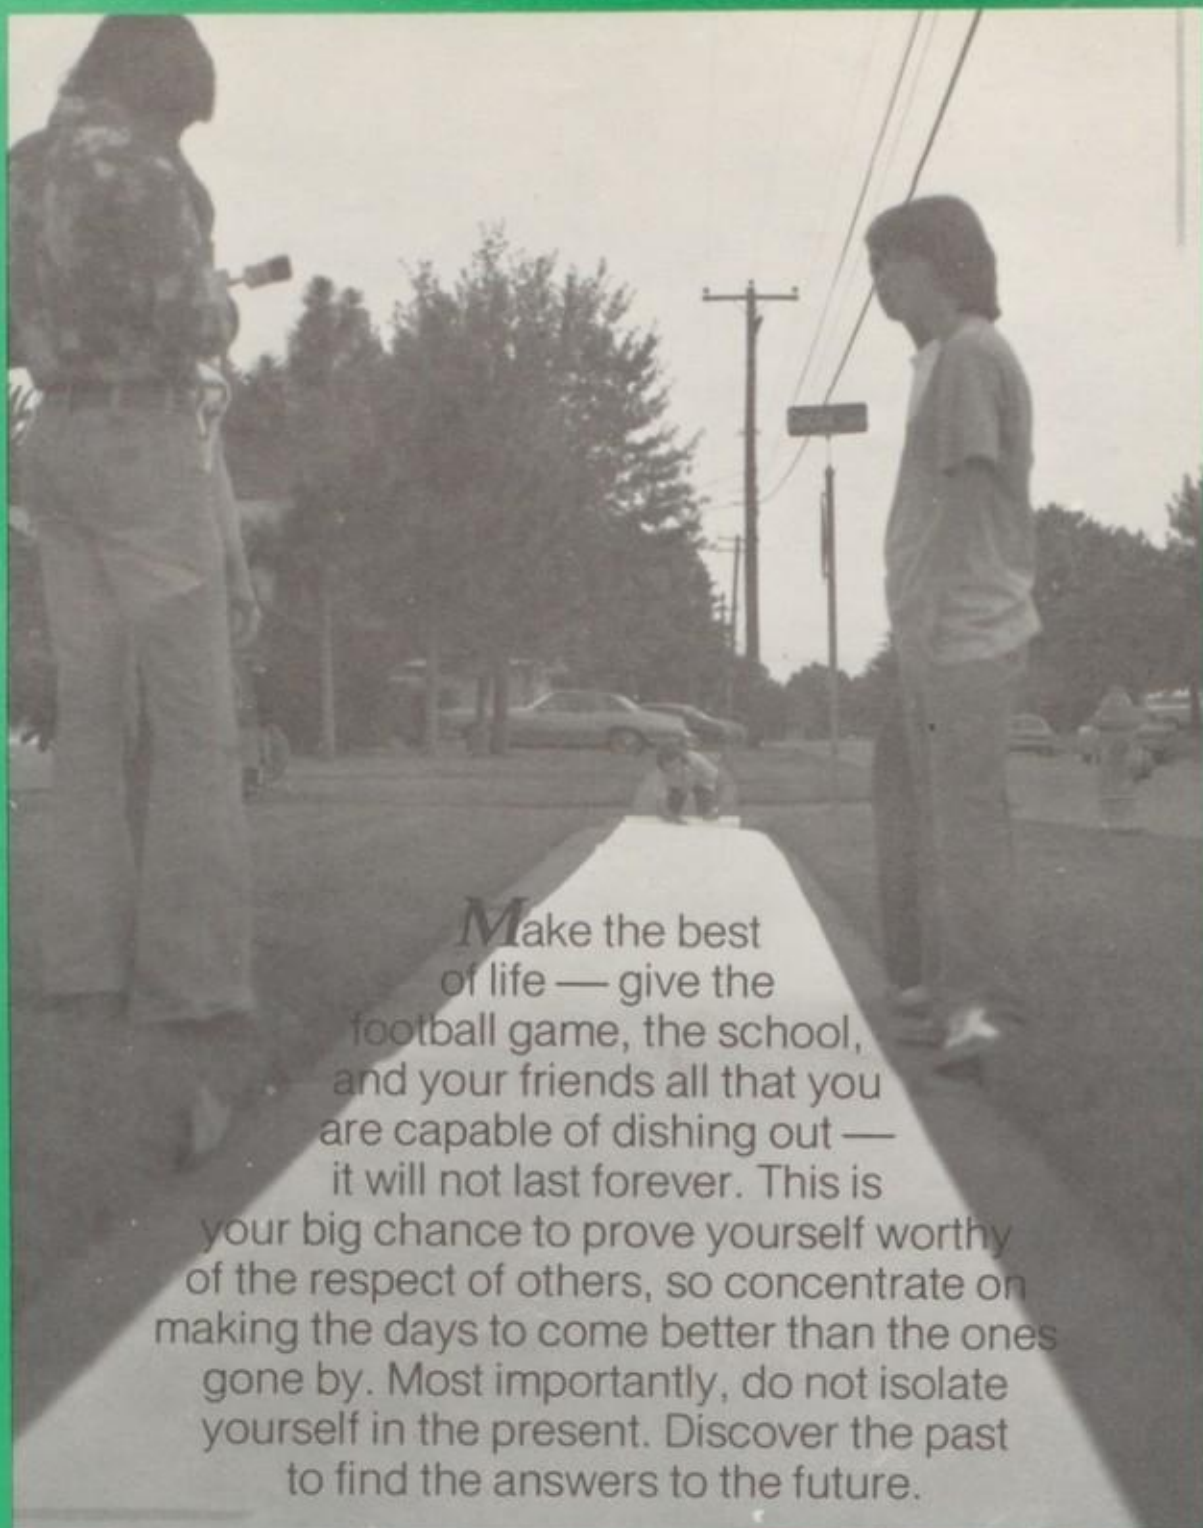

Step out of the line-up of the average. Provide the personal kind of talent that singles you out from all the rest. Sing and dance your way into the hearts of thousands and you will never be forgotten.

Horticulture Grew With the Times

Turning over a new leaf, horticulture brought more life to the campus. The construction of a lath house for outdoor and landscaping plants gave the students a chance to widen their botany knowledge.

1. Mr. Rascoe lectured to the group. 2. The lath house before . . . 3. The lath house after. 4. "Speak to me!" quips Lowell Hahn as he employs the new technique of plant psychology. 5. Students help build the foundation for the lath house. 6. "Timber!"

Cosmetology Created Cuts

"Free! Free! Free!" sounded through the Cosmetology lab. A hairathon sponsored by hair stylists from a local high fashion hair salon offered students free haircuts and styles by professionals. During the spring, the girls traveled to Austin and competed for their Texas license.

Bowlers Struck Ten

Working out every Tuesday afternoon, the bowlers tried to better their score. Competing against many area high schools, the bowling club achieved numerous awards.

1. Don Elliott tried a new hair cut for the spring. 2. Bowling club officers included: Sharron Newhouse, treasurer; Martha O'Keefe, vice-president; Lisa Olds, secretary; and Bunny Smith, president. 3. Susan Davis looked on with approval as Cheryl Moody cut her hair. 4. Edwin Brandt tried for a strike. 5. Consoueles Cardenas trimmed Paula O'Keefe's hair. 6. Carmen Jones and Mindy Schrock styled wigs for the hair show. 7. Lisa Olds worked at improving her swing.

Fender Benders Bent Fenders

Liberation came to Auto Body Repair with the presence of the first female body painter. The year's main event consisted of the repair of a truck that would carry Baldy to his honored spot at the games. By learning the techniques of repairing damaged automobiles, the students prepared themselves for the working world.

1. Suzie Higgins takes a "brake" from the hectic schedule of Auto Body Repair. 2. Baldy rides high. 3. "What do you mean, it fell off?" 4. "Can you keep a secret?" 5. Jeff Moronko concentrated on his work.

Radio and T.V. Turned On

Radio and T.V. students plugged into the many facets of electronics. This knowledge enabled them to better serve this community of mass media.

Solderers Specialized in Metal Maneuvering

The art of cutting and welding proved essential in preparing the metal trade student for his vocation. Experience increased with hard work and odd jobs around the campus.

1. Mr. Armstrong lends a hand. 2. "What's a nice guy like me doing in a place like this?" 3. James Huse practices his techniques of soldering. 4. Bill Dorsett repairs a television. 5. "Here, let me show you how to do it." 6. "Who cares if the bell rang, it's Howdy Doody Time!" 7. "It doesn't matter what shape your stomach is in!"

The 1975-76 Eagle Escort

1. Social officers included: Top Row: Debbie Gray, Parliamentarian; Marty Erwin, chaplain, Mary Trout, historian. Bottom Row: Jeanne Goen, secretary; Robin Elliot, president; and Cheryl Bryan, vice president. 2. Escorts practiced long hours for competitions. 3. The top three military officers included: Nancy Bacon, captain; Tammy Haden, colonel; Charlene Wilkerson, major. 4. Brian Davis was chosen as 75-76 Eagle Escort Beau. 5. Kathy Baudat was Outstanding Senior Girl for the year. 6. The Eagle Escorts performed in Los Angeles. 7. Major Charlene Wilkerson choreographed a dance for stage. 8. The sergeants included: Top Row: Patricia Armstrong, Susan Herera, Teresa Montgomery, and Genie Todd. Second Row: Patty Drake, Debbie Hyman, and Vickie Kebodeaux. Bottom Row: Master sergeant, Johnna Scott.

Team Excelled Nation- wide

Traveling climaxed the year as the Eagle Escort made their way to tops. Members drove to Waco, Texas where they acquired a first in state with their jazz routine, "In the Mood." Colonel Tammy Haden won the title of Miss Drill Team Texas. Next, to Los Angeles flew the high stepping, dazzling dancers where they were fourth in nationals. Tammy was chosen Miss Drill Team USA. Other competitions the Eagle Escorts won were: South Houston — first in high kick and second in jazz; Channelview — first in high kick and jazz and second in props; and Dobie — sweepstakes and first in novelty.

Escorts Entertained

Smiles of showmanship and polished precision marked each member of the Eagle Escort. Many long hours of practice proved helpful as they excelled in performances both on stage and on the field.

Interact Got It Together

Interact, having more members than ever, kept it together all year. Helping with the Jaycees Halloween carnival and supplying turkeys for the needy served as community projects. These, along with fun partying, made being a member gratifying.

1. "Who's president!?" 2. Interact officers included: Sergeant at Arms — Jim Barmore, President — John Hambrick, Vice-President — Jerry Shults, and Secretary — Carol Manousos. 3. Treasurer Martin Cominsky was chosen as representative for district 589. 4. Enthusiastic Interact members attended a meeting.

"Going Once; Going Twice . . ."

“ . . . Sold!”

Señores' and Señoritas' fiesta came to an end when willing students offered themselves to a day of slavery. Obligated to obey the command of their masters the slaves developed sore arms and tired feet.

1. Carol Manousos contemplated on the day of carrying books and those messy lunch trays. 2. One of the Spanish Club members took a swing at the piñata. 3. The auctioneer tried to sell Bart Dansby. 4. Mitch Pearson and the Spanish Club officers waved to the crowd during the Pasadena Rodeo Parade. 5. The Spanish Club officers included: Mary Maguire, Charisa House, Terrie Moore and John Melcher. 6. Mr. Dial and Rebecca Williams discussed with fellow members the plans for the Cinco de Mayo picnic. 7. Spanish Club members quenched their thirst.

Cupid Celebrated With a Spanish Air

With hearts, flowers and the joy of Valentine's Day the Spanish Club celebrated February 14 with a fun filled night at Ricardos.

1. Laura Avant and Sonya Dail helped with the refreshments. 2. Mrs. Bette Drymon discussed the espiritu magazine with Mr. Lonnie Keller and Martin Cominsky. 3. Wendi Sively was elected the Spanish club sweetheart. 4. Mr. Dial posed with the nominees for sweetheart. 5. Richard Earley listened earnestly. 6. Morry Groves and David Wills relaxed at the Spanish meeting. 7. The espiritu staff.

'espíritu' Searched the Past

Forging ahead with a journalistic project 'espíritu' instilled the desire to learn about the past. Students devoted their time after school searching historical sites and interviewing people in the community.

Parties Pepped- Up Parisians

Parties prevailed on the agenda for the French club activities.

With ice skating, gourmet dinners, the New Year's Eve party, and French restaurants, the vivacious members kept a fast pace all year.

1. Nancy Barrington and Aaron Maguire painted posters to show the French Club's spirit. 2. Steve Green took a coke break during the French Symposium. 3. "Savoir-faire is everywhere!" 4. Doylena Johnson entertained the club at one of the parties. 5. Dean Quinn took the seat of cashier as his duty at the symposium. 6. Sharon Jennings, Mrs. Jamison, and Steve Plaisance visited at a party. 7. French club officers included: Mike Hale, Sharon Jennings, Martin Cominsky, John Cook, David Plaisance, Gail Hamilton, and Mark Repman.

French Club Hosted Symposium

Hundreds of students from schools all over the state met here on campus for the 1975-76 French Symposium, headed by Margaret Jamison. Students competed in many different categories. Art awards were given for oil painting, pencil drawing, sculpturing, and costuming. Music, created by French composers was played with a variety of instruments. Other categories were prose, poetry, extemporaneous speaking, dramatic interpretation, ballet, fencing, and magic. Trophies and ribbons were given at an awards banquet and dance, which concluded many hours of hard work and fun.

Auto Mechanics Kept On Truckin'

Many students participated in the highly rewarding field of auto mechanics. These student mechanics offered their services and mechanical knowledge to many staff members and to the public in the form of automotive work.

1. Terry Hall used his skills grinding valves. 2. "I still cannot hear." 3. DeWayne Tatum used his know-how to install a CB radio. 4. David Morgan repaired an automatic transmission. 5. Craig Oliver turned in his tools after a hard day at work. 6. "Sure hope he knows what he's doing!"

Der "Yunge" Deutsche Klasse Zimmer

"Der Deutsche Verein," otherwise known as the German Club, provided an active year for its members. The club's calendar included parties, a gourmet dinner, and the production of class plays.

1. "What do you mean, five cents postage?" 2. "You flash me and I'll break your face!" 3. Officers included, Micah Tomlinson, Tim Starker, Karen Fonville, Nancy Bacon, Billy Long and Jim Baur.

1. German Club sponsor, Mrs. Patty Young, got into the act. 2. German Club members Gayle Demel and Nancy Bacon proved learning could be fun. 3. Activities varied from participating in outings to presenting plays. 4. German Club officers debated many hours in planning the club activities.

Marching Band Excelled

One of the most outgoing organizations on campus, the Mighty Eagle Marching Band in reward for consistently spirited enthusiasm at games as well as at pep rallies, deserved their honor of the spirit stick. Even through unending weeks of late night poster parties, these athletic supporters still found time for practice, as they proved their fine musical skill by receiving several top music and marching awards.

Marching Band

Symphonic Band Succeeded

Contests and competitions filled the year for Symphonic Band members. Their concerts ranged from the Christmas Concert to the Spring Concert, with the Mid-Winter Concert marking the year's half-way point. Competing in the regional competition and in the Buccaneer Music Festival in Corpus Christi, where they received excellent ratings, Symphonic Band members found their year rewarding.

"We're Stuck on Band-Aid"

Pepping up pep rallies and performing at football games, the Mighty Eagle Marching Band executed precision marching maneuvers to the rhythm of their own high-stepping tunes. Giving up their afternoons to long, hot hours of repeated practice, these students perfected the art of weaving formations.

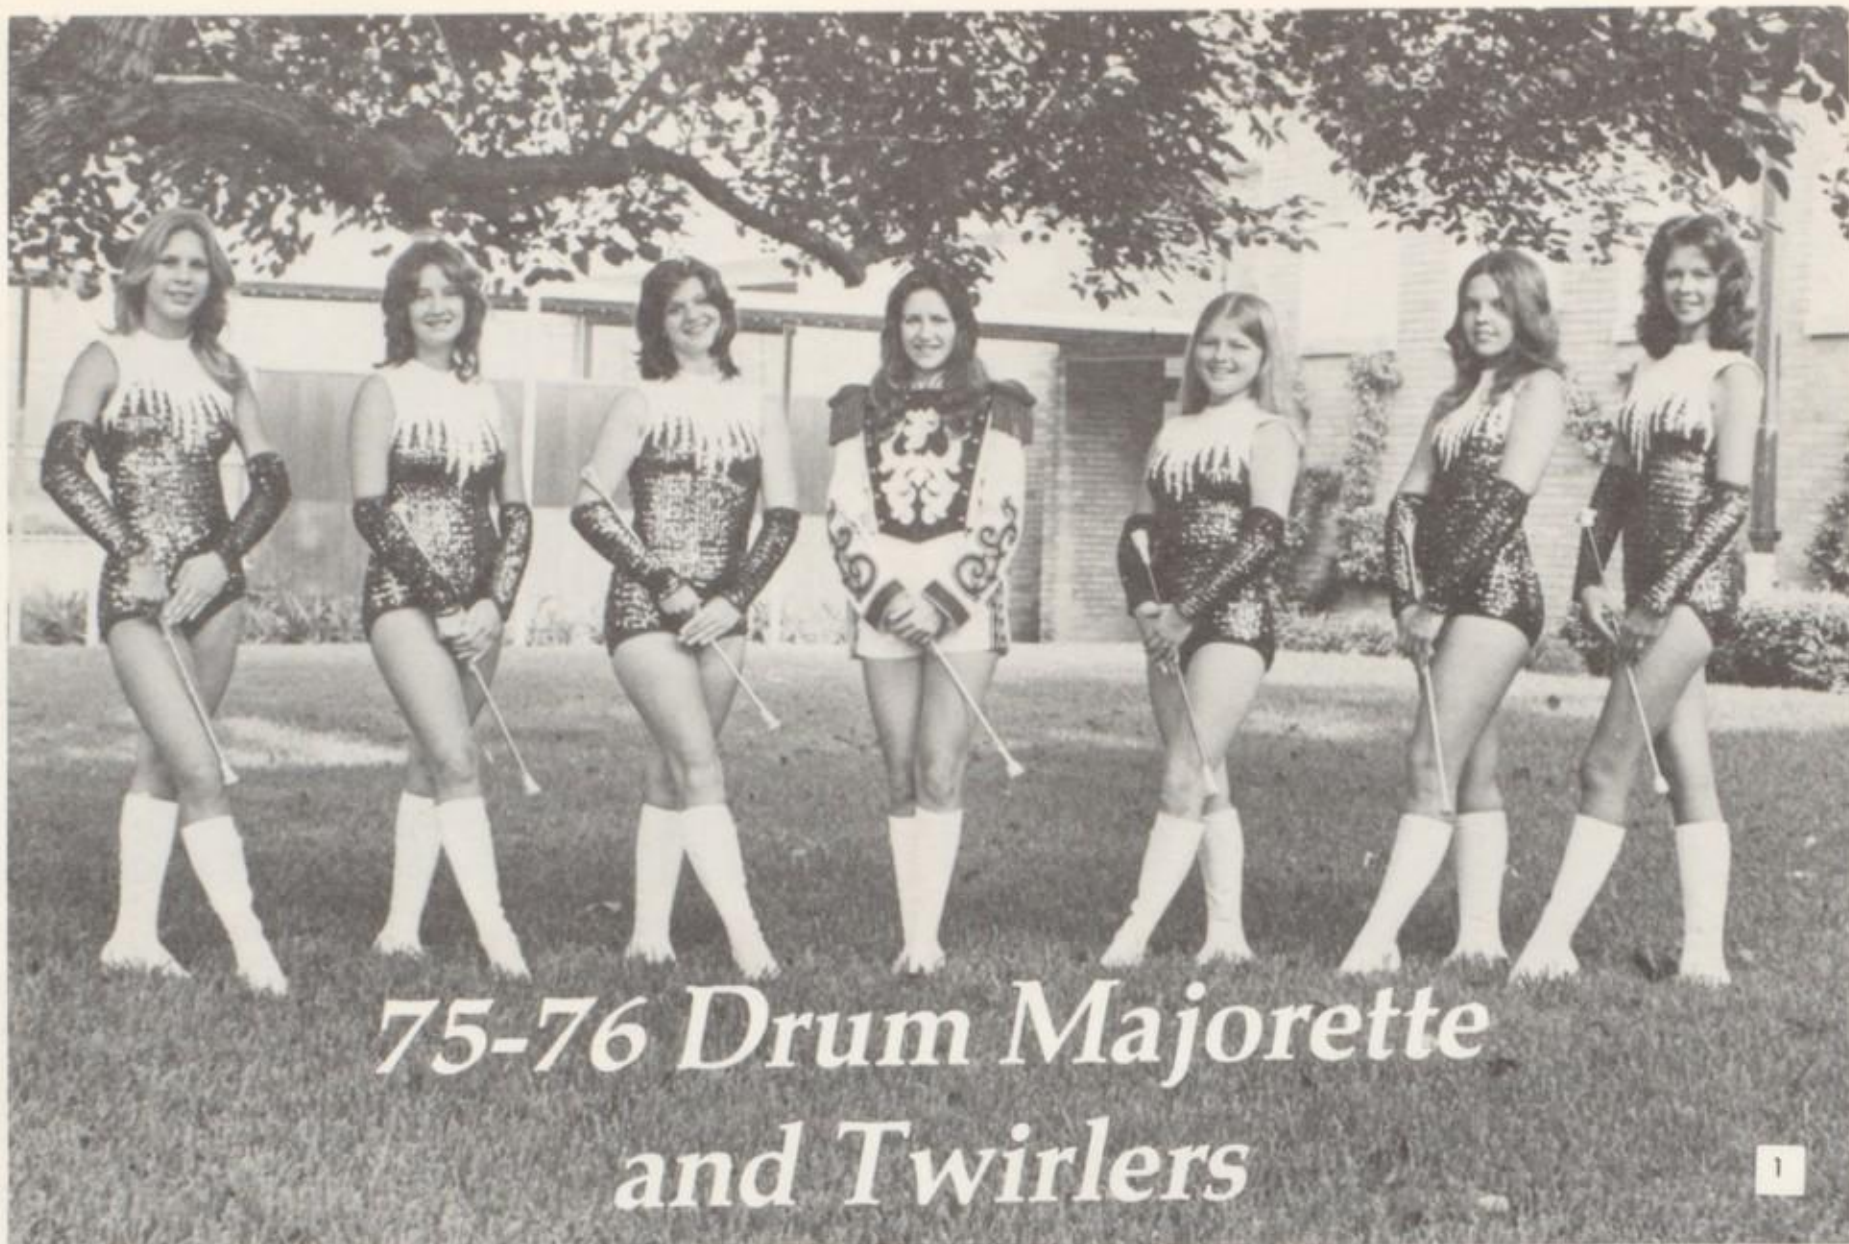

1. Flag bearer Wendy McAdams, added pizzazz to halftimes. 2. Area Band members. 3. Band Beau and Sweetheart, David Evans and Brenda Parr. 4. At practice. 5. Region Band members. 6. "Uh-one, uh-two, and uh-three." 7. District Band members.

Band Moved on

Band members checked, packed and loaded in preparation for a three day intermission from the routine schedule of everyday life. These refugees learned how to rough it by planning, buying and cooking their own meals. The trip's agenda included competing in the Buccaneer Music Festival in Corpus Christi, winning excellent ratings, and afterwards spending the rest of the weekend in celebration on Mustang Island.

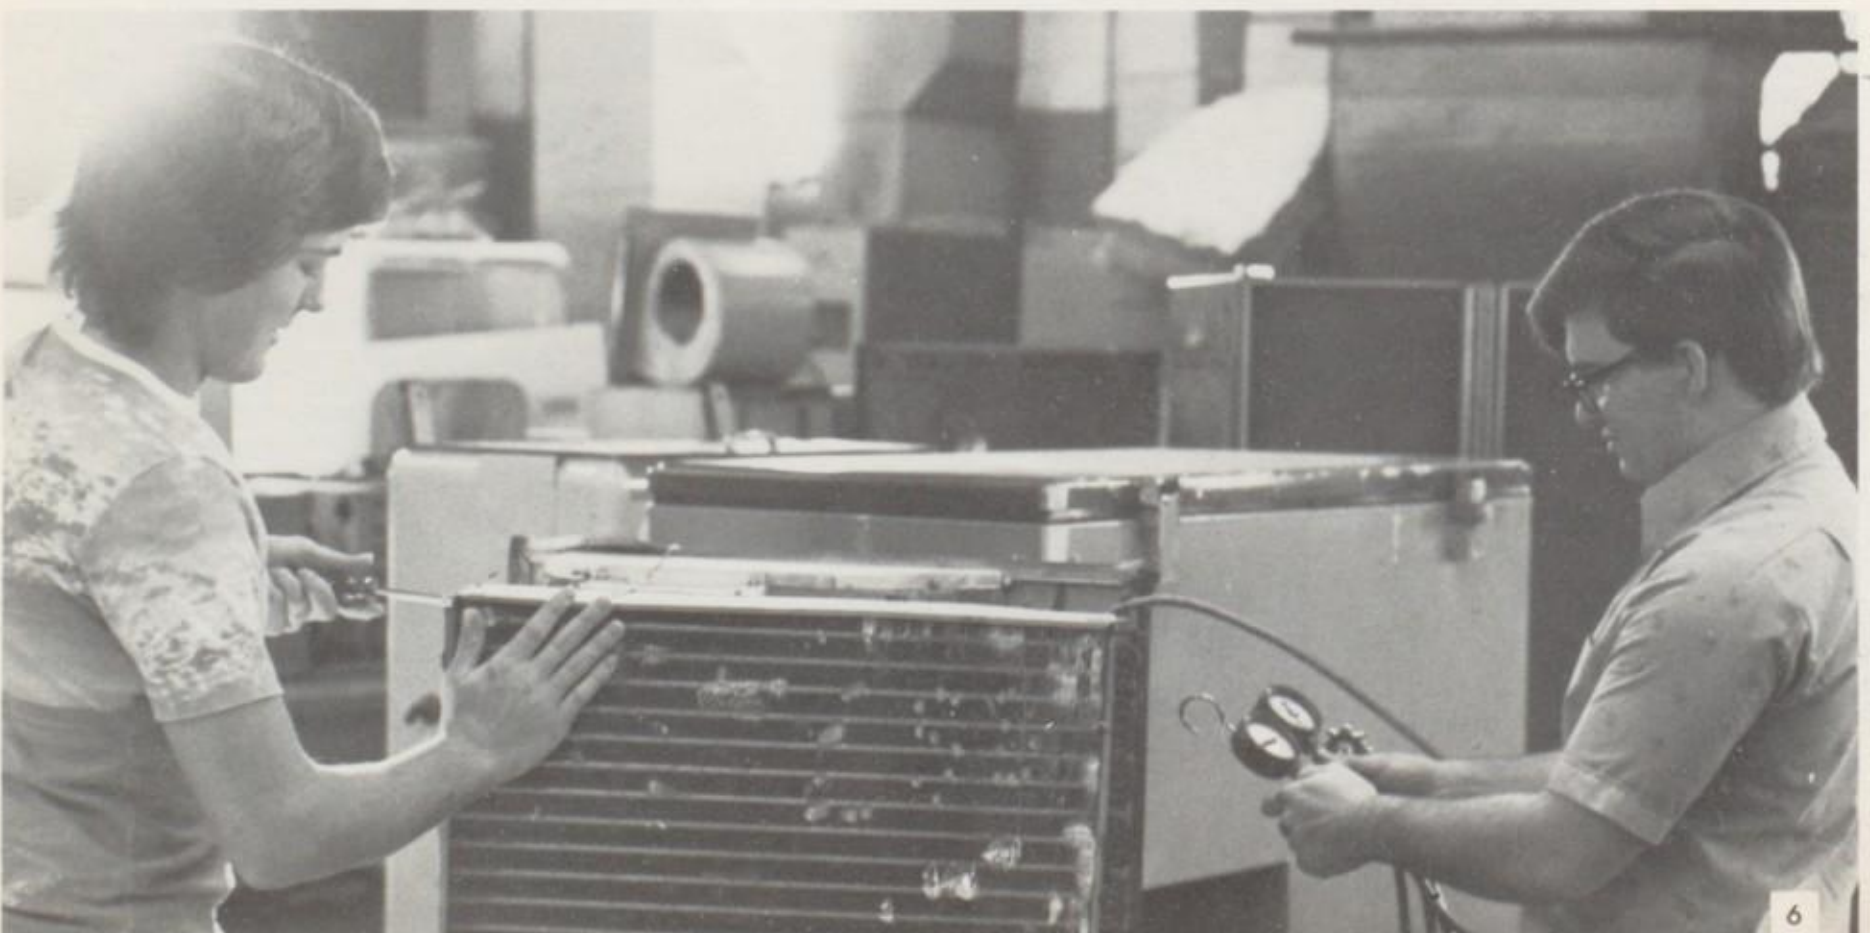

1. Halftimes included Errain Richardson, Brenda Parr, Sheila Robertson, Darla Hampton, Karen Goodwin, Melissa Hill, and Debbie Bull. 2. Band members carefully loaded their delicate instruments. 3. Anxieties burst as the trip got underway. 4. Members munched out. 5. Officers included: David Strange, Ken Legler, David Evans, Lisa Keener, Brenda Parr, Liz Waring, Larry Mitchell, Sandra Hand, Rhonda McKenzie, Andy Zamora, Cathy McKinley, Brenda Bellanger, and Thelma Serda. Not Pictured: Steve Ayers. 6. "Did someone say 'shark'?" asked Lisa Keener.

No Hotheads Around Here

Air-Conditioning and Refrigeration students turned on the switch to a valuable lifetime skill as they spent three hours a day laboring over compressors, and thermostats. Selecting their sweetheart and hosting a benefit barbecue dinner also provided a bit of fun away from the shop.

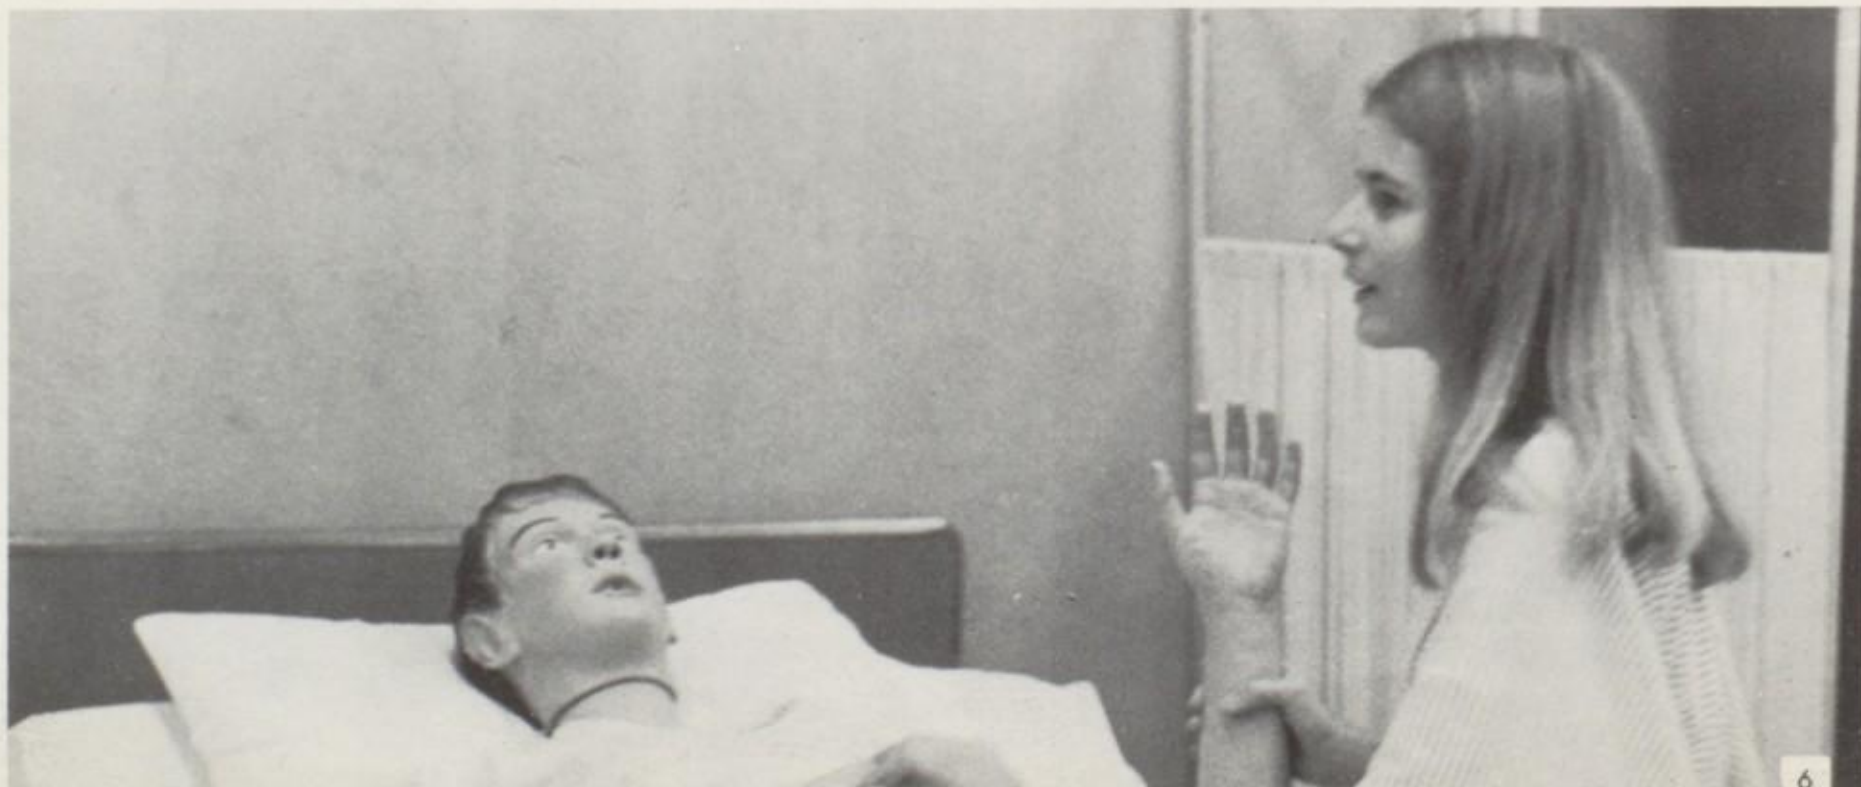

1. "Dear Tide, I regret to inform you . . ."
 2. Terri Pittman was chosen "Miss Cube."
 3. "Time flies when you're having fun!"
 4. Darrel Dudley brazed the Air Conditioner.
 5. "You've got the cutest little baby face!"
 6. Mr. Bachelor helped Steve Briley.
 7. "Someone raided our refrigerator."

TAHOS Practiced Patients

TAHOS directed its talents into factual happenings. Students learned special techniques, such as giving shots and taking blood pressure. Although TAHOS students worked diligently social activities continued.

1. Susan O'Banion practiced taking blood pressure. 2. Students learned anatomical terms. 3. "Unhand me, you cad!" 4. "Lend me your hand, Doc." 5. Karen Fergeson and Jana Kouba studied TAHOS techniques. 6. "Yes, I'll still marry you!"

FTA

Experienced Teaching

Many members of FTA obtained experience, one of their main objectives, through involvement in teaching. Some students attended Camp Cougar as counselors for the mentally retarded. On their off periods, members acted as Teacher's Aids for a trimester. Their annual Mr. Saint Nick and Miss Merry Christmas contest raised money to take food and gifts to Hope Village.

Congregated

Dedicating their lives and sports achievements to the glory of God, FCA had a very active year. Meetings, held every two weeks, gave members a chance to share experiences and study the Bible. Guests included people from teams such as the Oilers, and singers from various churches. Other activities included attending a Rockets basketball game, the Texas A&M versus Rice football game and the Astro baseball games.

1. Diane Richardson paid close attention at an FTA meeting. 2. Hugh James and Coach Moon led a discussion. 3. Mrs. Baldinger helped pass out Christmas gifts at Hope Village. 4. FCA officers included: Standing: Charlie James, secretary; Bruce Lyman, treasurer; Eddie Pereira, captain elect; and Sitting: Billy Long, captain. 5. # Officers Displayed Leadership

Representing the backbone of the student council, officers displayed the enthusiasm and willingness to work that characterized the 1976 Senior Class. Planning the agenda for the council meeting and helping needy families at Christmas, these student leaders formed an inner circle around which the rest of the school revolved.

1. "Take a little one-step, two-step . . ." 2. John Hambrick contemplates making a haul. 3. "Actually, I don't always carry this big a lunch." 4. Officers included: President — John Hambrick, Secretary — Mandy Collier, Historian — Brenda Belanger, Treasurer — Susan Herrera, Parliamentarian — Janie Phillips, and Vice-President — Bart Dansby.

Council Improved Relations

Governing the campus, the student council worked to better student-faculty relations. Members, selected from their homerooms took part in ribbon sales, the Salvation Army drive, and many other school and community projects.

1. Seniors: Top to Bottom, left to right, Top Row: Bart Dansby, Martin Cominsky, Robert Tovey, and John Hambrick. Second Row: Karen Fonville, Vickie Fonville, Brenda Belanger, and Charlene Wilkerson. Third Row: Diane Turner, Susan Herrera, Debbie Wash, Janie Phillips, and Lori Williams. Bottom Row: Janis Norville, Pam Goodwin, Mandy Collier, and Laura Kirk.

FFA Roped in Honors

In hopes of receiving top honors, agriculturally minded students spent many months in preparing their exhibits for the Live Stock Show and Rodeo. Involvement in this organization gave students the chance to prepare for a career in agriculture.

1. Bill Petty shows off his trophies and ribbon. 2. Tony Broesche was awarded first place for his heavy weight fat lamb. 3. Third year members consisted of truly dedicated students.

Farmers Found Their Future

Ranking second in importance only to the rodeo, the FFA Sweetheart Contest highlighted the future farmers' year. This gave FFA members a chance to honor the one girl, they selected to be outstanding. Responsible students were elected as officers to uphold high standards of quality.

1. Pam Lewellen reigned as the 75-76 Sweetheart. 2. FFA starts with first year members. 3. Officers included Kenneth Cochran, Tony Broesche, Brent Walker, Jeff Mead, David Wilkerson, Dale Robertson, Billy Petty, and Pat Warnick. 4. Second year members hung in there.

SOPs Crashed 76

SOPs united in a joint effort to make '76 a fun-loaded year. Crashing into the spirit of things, they wasted no time in proving their smashing potency. Late night hours at poster parties were rewarded with the spirit stick as a token of achievement.

CVAE Worked for the Future

With a dual-training system of classwork and on-the-job training, CVAE students laid the foundation for their future. Various employers helped provide these students with the experience they needed for post-graduation employment.

Jets Blasted Off

Jets launched an action-packed year with a round of poster parties and an ice skating trip at the Galleria.

Helping to further interests in science and technology, a trip to A&M climaxed their year.

1. Debbie Moore displayed her support for the Eagles. 2. Jets painted posters in hopes of winning the spirit stick. 3. Jets officers included: Eddie Beamer, parliamentarian; Stephen Plaisance, historian; Guy Concas, vice-president; Janet Earles, treasurer; Debbie Moore, president; Janet Norville, secretary.

Auto Mechanics II Stepped Up Work

Auto Mechanics II prepared its students for vocational work after high school. Student mechanics established goals of developing the concepts of workmanship, scholarship, and leadership.

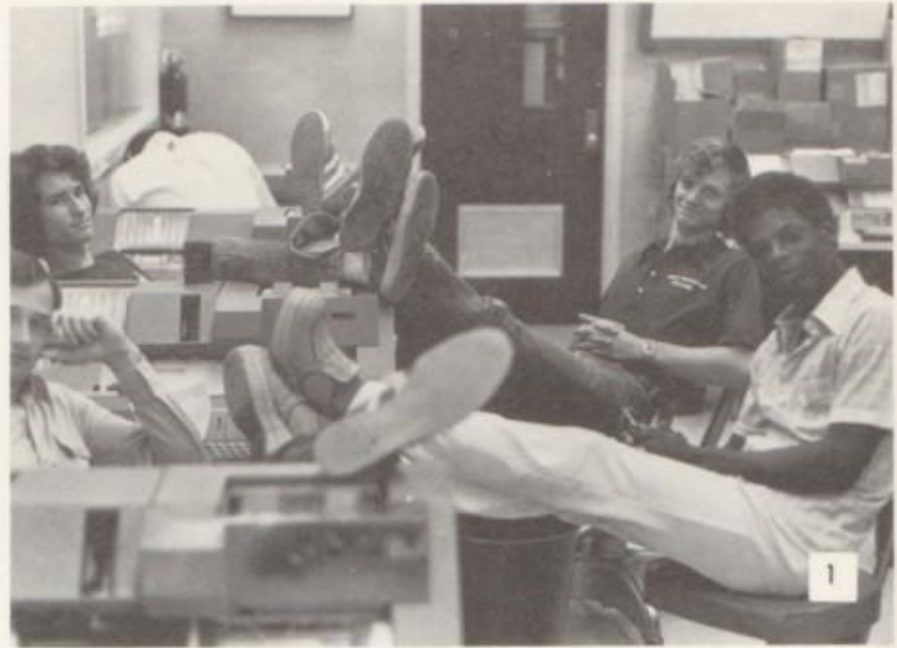

1. "Steve Austin eat your heart out." 2. Students let Auto Mechanics go to their head.

Programmers Processed Data

Using various types of data, first-year data students learned the versatility of the computer. Daily work ranged from writing a computer program to wiring the computer in preparation for their technological future.

1. Data students improved their computer skills. 2. Diane Twiss showed her historian spirit by painting posters. 3. A student compared statalist notes with the computer. 4. Guy Conces presented a Texas flag to Mr. Crager. 5. David Fonville took a break with his feline friend. 6. Data Processing officers included: John Clay, Lanette McBride, and John Lowe. 7. Other officers: Melissa Pettit, Gail Hill, James Hager, Vickie Green, and Cindy Francher. 8. '75-'76 History Club officers were: Marty Erwin, Gennie Todd, Diane Twiss, Susan Hamilton, Kathy Biesel, and Donna Twiss.

American Historians Stood Proud

As our nation's 200th birthday approached, the History Club's purpose came to life. The presentation of a Texas flag to each class and a history fair kept their year busy. Poster parties and ice skating at the Galleria added to the fun times.

NFL Verbalized Its Way to State

Winning in original oratory, extemporaneous speaking, and championship cross-examination debate at various high school tournaments, qualified National Forensic League members to compete in state competition. The NFL set an all-time record for wins in '76.

1. David Scruggs, Susan Miller, and Bryon Stilwell were the outstanding seniors for '76. 2. Elizabeth Gonzales listened to club officers. 3. David Scruggs presided over an NFL meeting. 4. Susan Jones served at the Halloween party. 5. Lisa Shelby expressed her own opinion. 6. The NFL displayed their trophies. 7. FHA officers included Angie Broche, secretary; Eileen Dixon, vice-president; Lisa Huntley, historian; Rene McElroy, president; Debbie Walsh, reporter; Vickie Fonville, parliamentarian; Stephanie Middleton, treasurer.

Diverse Activities Filled Homemaking Days

Mastering the arts of cooking and sewing the Future Homemakers of America took pride in their accomplishments. Hosting a dinner and having money making projects led the way to a prosperous year.

ICT Traded Skills

VICA chapter 359 Industrial Cooperative Training Classes learned their trades on the job as well as in theory class. Students built job projects, prepared speeches on the "Spirit of '76," and studied their handbooks and skills for the area contests. For money making projects, students sold bicentennial flag pins and popular "Fruit Ritters."

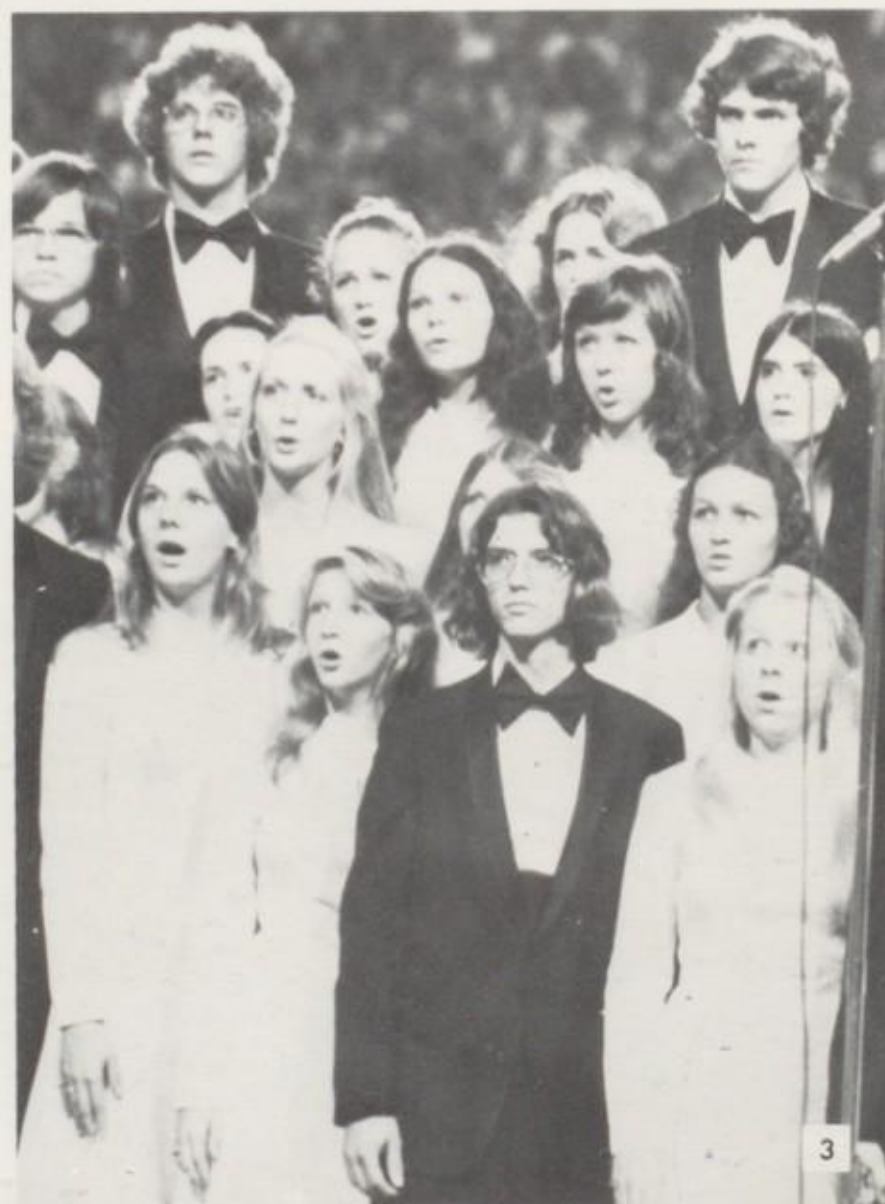

1. Members include: Top Row: Bill Daniels, Brian Barber, Fritz Byer, and James Guffey. Second Row: Gene Ritchy, Kathy Boydston, Joey Harris, and Robert Ratliff. Bottom Row: Roger Tumlinson and Les Ellard. 2. Bill Daniels looks for a speech topic. 3. James Guffey with his excellent radio repair project. 4. Mr. Murphy gives Gary Thurman a helping hand. 5. Officers are: Edgar Anderson, David Holloman, Debbie Guillot, Richard Householder, Brian Thorpe, and Cara Chidester. 6. A proud Fritz Byer displays his job projects. 7. Eugene Timm and Bruce Page research for contest. 8. Other members include: Top Row: Twana Pruitt, Bruce Page, Gary Thurman, Richard Householder, Robert Williams, Tracy Spencer, Wayne Akin, Mike Walters, Debi Guillot, David Holloman, and Edgar Anderson. Bottom Row: Brian Thorpe, Robert Burge, Paul Wortham, Cara Chidester, Uvaldo Garcia, Junior Pringle, and Eugene Timm.

"Sing . . . Sing a Song"

Composed of eighty-nine fine voices, the A Cappella Choir helped make the world a little happier. Under superb direction of their choir master, they presented Christmas assemblies, a special football concert, and the annual spring concert.

Choir Splashed at Sea Arama

Hosting the sixth annual Sea Arama Choral Festival highlighted the A Cappella Choir's contest schedule. Under the direction of Mr. David Scarcella, originator of the festival, the choir received sweepstakes by placing first in concert performance and sight reading. Final ranking placed the choir third out of 102 competing choirs.

1. A Cappella Choir sang out. 2. A Cappella Choir perfected their sight reading. 3. Girls' Choir performed. 4. Girls' Choir concentrated on sight reading.

A Cappella

Mr. Beller took a dip. 7. The choir provided music for senior citizens of Burnet, Texas. 8. The Beh Behs performed their routines.

Choir Tripped

Choir tour brought three days of rest, relaxation, and poker games. Souvenirs ranged from sunburns to indigestion as the trip included both work and pleasure, with four concerts being performed in the Austin area. The year closed at the Spring Concert with the announcement of choir beau and sweetheart.

OEA Developed Skills

In preparation for their future lives, first year OEA students dedicated one class period to learning typing and technical skills. These skills further advanced the students towards their second year in Co-Op jobs.

1. Learning from mistakes proved useful.
2. Mary Steinenger concentrated on her work. 3. "Blondes do it, reds do it . . .!"

OEA Co-Op Focused on Business

Combining daily classroom work with on-the-job training, OEA Co-Op students gained experience in secretarial and business skills. Students' employers ranged from bank presidents to the Health Department, for whom they utilized their typing and clerical techniques.

1. Joy Buchanan learns by her mistakes. 2. Brenda Boyette uses her tele-type. 3. Learning begins in the classroom. 4. A hectic schedule fills Denise Dickinson's afternoons.

Data Processed

1. Matt Wilson programmed his computer. 2. "I'm getting vibrations!" 3. Officers included, Nancy Simecek, Ken Carter, Celeste Shank, Brenda Young, Cynthia Lumm, Debbie Thieler, Glenn Weld, Mike Bunn, and Drue Lackey.

Combining forces with students from other schools, Data Processing participants prepared themselves for further training or a career in this field. During the Valentine season, students created their own business world by designing Valentine greetings.

1. The Teacher of the tri-mesters were Mrs. Mulkey, Mrs. Jamison and Mr. Mauney. 2. Doctor Kershner spoke at the Free Enterprise Day. 3. Carl Williams and Jim Vanderwilt went through the buffet. 4. David Plasiance and John Cook talked to Mr. Mauney at the banquet.

Maintaining high standards and good grades many students received the honor of an invitation into the elite club, the National Honor Society. Attending the Free Enterprise Day and hosting an end of the year banquet NHS had an exciting season.

Intellects Received Honor

Cupid Called on Campus

Playing cupid for Valentine's Day by delivering flowers to students during homeroom, highlighted the year for NHS. From the hockey field to dining at the Windmill Dinner Theater and the Bacchanal, the season was filled with many exciting memories.

ROTC Saluted Uncle Sam

Celebrating the bicentennial year, the MJROTC performed in exact replicas of the revolutionary uniforms. Throughout the year they presented the color guard at assemblies, football games and parades.

1. Nikki Harrison takes a break from a heavy day of sports writing. 2. The ROTC cadets displayed their bicentennial uniforms. 3. The 75-76 Beacon staff. 4. "What do you mean you didn't take the picture?" questions Susan Herrera. 5. The ROTC celebrated their 200th birthday. 6. Martin Cominsky and John Cook decided over pictures for the Beacon. 7. Patty Titus was chosen as most amiable and outstanding news staffer. 8. "I think we lost him, sir." 9. "Stuck a feather in his hat and called it macaroni!"

Training Led to ROTC Recognition

Martial discipline denoted the action which took place in MJROTC. Rugged training made its mark as alumni of this corps proved acceptable to such distinguished institutions as West Point.

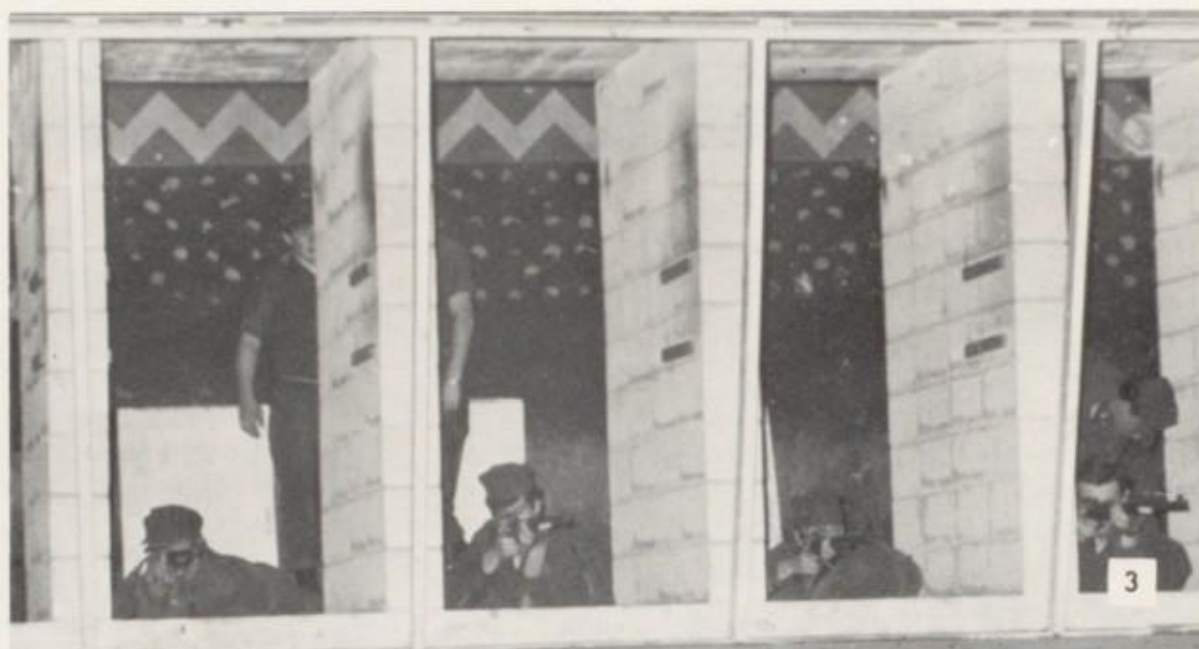

1. ROTC made an arch for the homecoming candidates. 2. ROTC officers included left to right, Front Row: Cadet Lt. Colonel Paul Tanner, Cadet Major Steven Brown. Back Row: Cadet Captain Carmen Berkstresser, Cadet Sergeant Major Russell Morgan, Cadet Lt. Craig Barnhart, William Hunton and Kenneth Tarrance. 3. Mr. Keller congratulated Paul Tanner on his acceptance at West Point. 4. "Are you sure the manual said to hold it this way?"

Cadet Mascot Led the Way

Cerberus the bulldog became a major attraction as the ROTC took on a new mascot. During the Easter vacation the top 30% of the cadets traveled to Quantico, Virginia for a convention in which the emphasis lay on military prospects for the future and on discipline.

Orchestra Got Away From It All

Orchestra retreated from their worldly worries of school and work to spend two glorious days doing nothing. These members found activities at Camp Tejas Vaqueros varied from basking in the sun or swimming in the pool to a starlit hay ride. This mini-vacation allotted a chance to enjoy one's friends or just to be alone.

1. Master Sergeant Long held the new mascot "Cerberus." 2. Kristi Davis found many friends willing to help her into the pool. 3. The ROTC held the rifle qualifications. 4. "What do you mean, they are out of Alka Seltzer?" 5. The cadet aimed his shot. 6. Douglas Duvall and Leo Lazo practiced their shooting. 7. Tim Passman aimed for his target. 8. Orchestra members found their hay ride an itchy situation.

Orchestra Tuned Up

Determination paid off as three orchestra members attained seats in the State Orchestra. Diligent practice, study, and hard work proved time consuming, but rewarding.

Thespians Got Into the Act

Putting in long hours after school, Thespians worked diligently at bringing a super production to their audience. The students proved their versatility when they performed in "The Curious Savage" in November.

1. "See no evil, speak no evil, hear no evil." 2. "Oh, mother told me about girls like these!" 3. Thespian members wait for the next act. 4. "Are you sure you are painting me?" 5. Doylena Johnson and Mitch Pearison tried to make Cheryl Leidig give up the money. 6. The 1975-76 Thespians: 1st Row: Officers, Laurie Boyd, Mitch Pearison, Dean Quinn, Martin Cominsky. 2nd Row: Patty Beauchemin, Janet Carraker, Hal Bushnell, Lisa Hough, Pam Chambers. 3rd Row: Cheryl Leidig, Donna Stonecipher, Katie Bruso, Larna Szymanski, Terri McNally. 4th Row: Ronnie Adkins, Sharron Newhouse, Sharon Jennings, Kathy Beisel, Sandy Campo, Mike Hale. 5th Row: Mark Robbins, Marianne Perkins, Sammie Walker, Reesa Hedricks, Doylena Johnson, Theresa Comeaux, Greg McKenzie. 6th Row: Genie Todd, Helen Beasley, Penny James, Steven Jackson, Mark Repman, David Scruggs. Not Pictured: John Cook and David Alquest.

Anne Boleyn Came to Life

For their One-Act Play selection, Thespian members presented "Anne Boleyn," the story of King Henry VIII's second wife. Doylena Johnson captured the title of Best Actress for her portrayal of Anne Boleyn.

Hal Bushnell as King Henry VIII and Billy Campbell as Thomas Cromwell, advisor to the king, both won spots in the six-member All-Star Cast.

D.E. Rang Up Experience

After school and on-the-spot, D.E. students proved that they could "sell it better." This program also set up invaluable training for hunting employment on the after-graduation job scene.

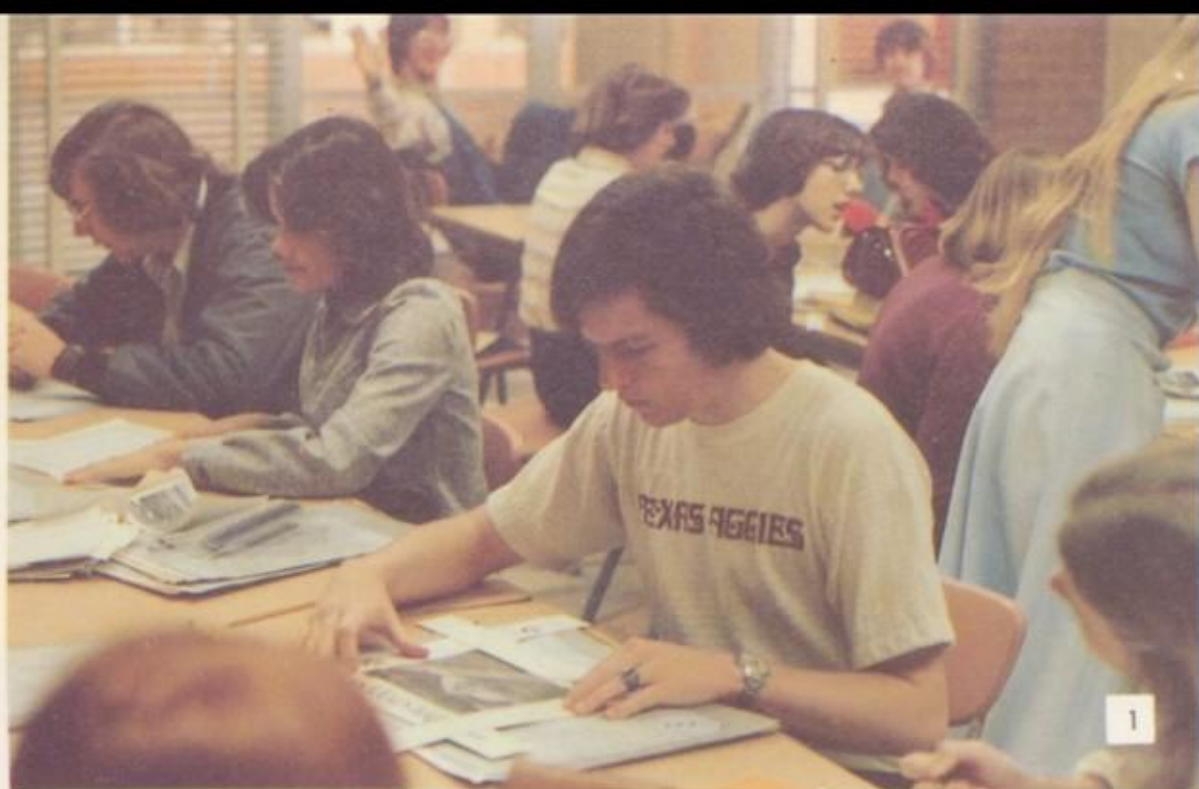

1. The UIL one act play contest cast. 2. Doylena Johnson as Anne Bolyen proclaims her devotion to King Henry VIII, played by Hal Bushnell. 3. David Hinze questions the amount shown on the register. 4. George Rochford, played by Mitch Pearson, argues with his wife Lady Rochford, Penny James. 5. Jon Rehbein discusses bank accounts with the tellers. 6. Sharon Gaubeuts lends a smile during her busy schedule. 8. Anne Boleyn defends her right of trial because she is the queen.

1. Editor David Scruggs checked pages for a deadline. 2. All work and no play isn't one of Mr. Lackey's mottos. 3. The 1975-'76 Pasadenian staff. 4. Paul Carroll helps a customer select a book. 5. The DECA officers were Tony Giroux, Janet Brock, Barbara Dear, Kenny Self, John Raybain, Sue Provence, and Paul M. Carroll. 6. Pam Goodwin concentrated on wasting time. 7. Editor Kelly Allbritton worked on opening section.

Yearbook Relayed the Past

In accordance with the bicentennial, the Pasadenian staff used the theme, "Discover the past to find the answers for the future." Finding vacant croppers, picking pictures, creating copy, and meeting the deadly deadlines all baffled the minds of the hard working staffers. Team work paid off as the pages were sent, and the publication came to life.

Eagles Started Season With Loss

Many questions remained unanswered as Galena Park defeated the Eagles for the fourth consecutive time. Pasadena made numerous errors, and the Yellow Jackets' strong running and consistent passing attacks scored often. The Eagles' scores came on a three yard run in the second quarter, and again in the fourth quarter when Pasadena took the ball in from one yard out.

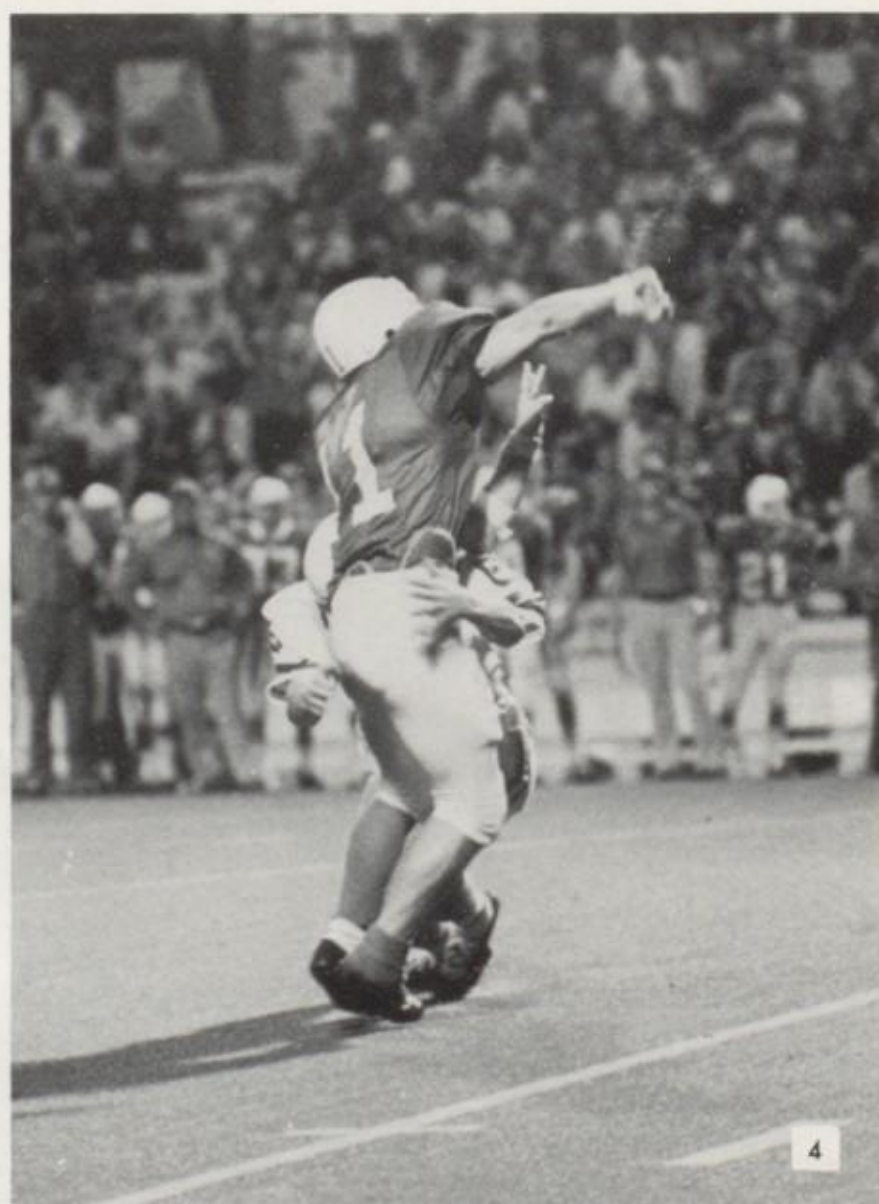

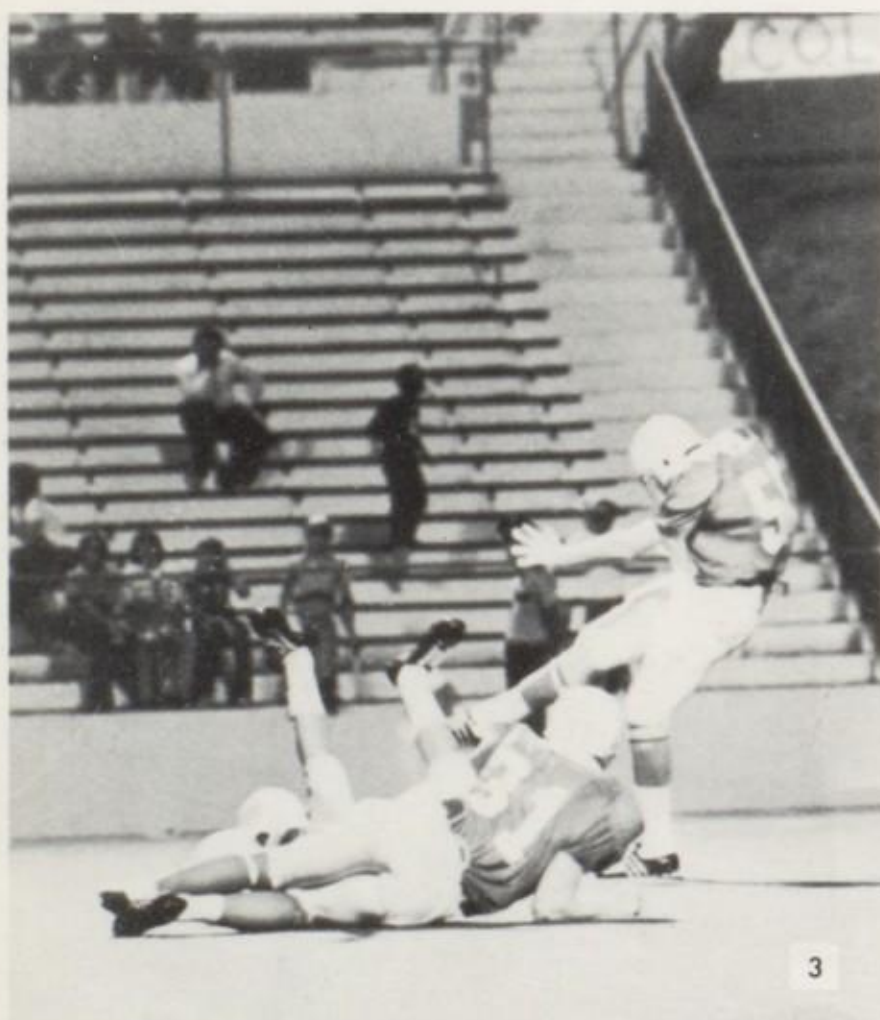

1. Keith Bonner prepared to bring down a Galena Park ball carrier. 2. Jeff Moravek fought for yardage. 3. Charles Bondy passed off under pressure.

Westchester Overcame Eagles

Errors continued to plague the Eagles as they bowed out to Westchester. A Pasadena fumble and an offsides penalty resulted in Westchester's only scores, as the Eagles' defense stiffened in the second half. Pasadena scored late in the first quarter on a 43 yard run, but the Wildcats stopped them for the rest of the game, turning the second half into a punting exhibition.

Eagles Claimed First Victory

Effective ball carries combined with strong defensive maneuvers led the Eagles to the season's first victory over Port Arthur. Despite several fumbles, Pasadena clearly dominated the field by scoring in three of the four quarters. In the fourth quarter the Yellow Jackets began to rally back, but managed to score only once while an interception by the Eagles clinched the game.

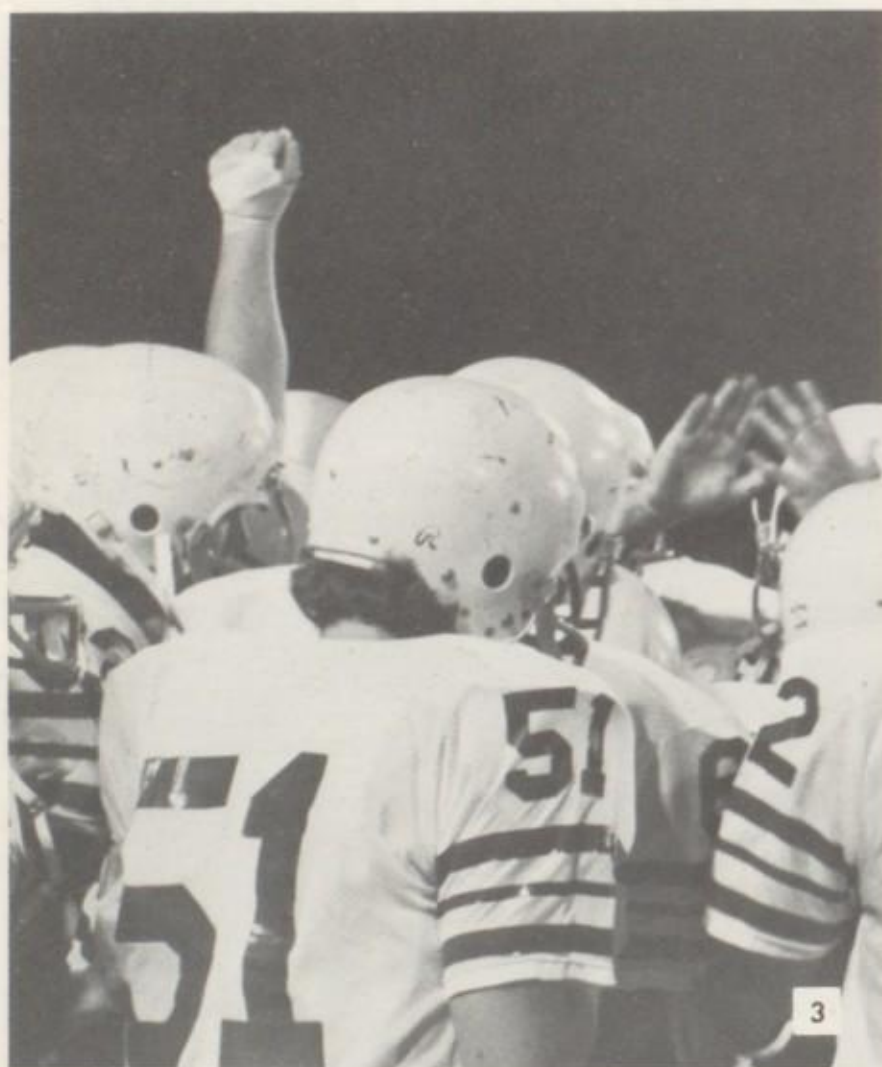

1. Keith Bonner got his punt away under pressure. 2. Jim Gumm went down after gaining yardage. 3. "You're pulling my leg." 4. Clifford Show broke up a play. 5. TOUCHDOWN!

Spirit Achieved Victory

A "fired-up" Eagle team completely controlled the gridiron as they upset the La Porte Bulldogs. Despite a discouraging loss to Deer Park, high spirits and a zest for winning prevailed, as the offense and defense worked together bringing the district record to 1-1 and the season total to 2-3. La Porte slipped only one touchdown past the Eagles while Pasadena poured four touchdowns into Bulldog territory.

1. Jerry Shults brought down a La Porte ball carrier. 2. Jeff Moravsek broke away for a long gain. 3. Fired-up. 4. La Porte vainly attempted to stop an extra point. 5. The Eagle defense stopped a fourth-down run.

Eagles Destroyed Clear Creek

A vicious defense forced two crucial second half turnovers, and enabled the Eagles to come from behind and defeat Clear Creek. After trailing the Wildcats for most of the first half, Pasadena came out of the locker room a changed team, and almost immediately pulled ahead. A one yard touchdown run provided all the margin needed, as the Eagle defense contained Clear Creek for the remainder of the game.

Eagles Lost By Seconds

In the climactic game of the season, the proud Green reluctantly handed an unearned victory to the South Houston Trojans. The mighty Eagles clearly captivated the game and the hearts of their fans as only the scoreboard failed to proclaim them winners. Pasadena remained ahead the entire game yet vital seconds ticked away as penalties and downs forced the Eagles to punt on their own five yardline. The blocked kick rewarded state-ranked South Houston with the winning touchdown, leaving the stunned Eagles with a 2-2 district record.

Pasadena Slipped By Dobie

High on victory after demolishing Clear Lake, the Eagles held off a last minute rally by Dobie to defeat the Longhorns 16-13. Pasadena's strong ground game enabled the Eagles to consistently penetrate Dobie territory, as they scored on runs of 7 and 65 yards. Pasadena added three more points in the fourth quarter with a 30-yard field goal, and held off Dobie's late comeback to notch their fourth district win.

1. Dale Gale pulled down the ball carrier. 2. Jim Gumm lost yardage. 3. Kipper Harrison pulled in a pass. 4. Gumm gained vital yards. 5. Arnie Preece returned a punt. 6. Jeff Moravek broke away for a touchdown.

Season Ends With Win

After eleven years of rivalry and three straight years of defeat, the Eagles re-established their superiority over Rayburn with a 21-12 win. High spirits, strong defense, and a quick offense combined to give Pasadena a hard-earned victory as they finished second only to state-ranked South Houston in final district standings. All-district choices included Jerry Shults, Dale Gale, Clifford Show, Jeff Moravek, Dwayne Overstreet, Rusty Draper, Billy Long, Jim Gumm, Thad Cleckler, Mike Corll, Bill Purvis, Brian Hahn, John Hambrick, Donald Tippet, Charles Bondy, Arnie Preece, Brian Jones, Kipper Harrison, Travis O'Sullivan, Hugh James, Gene Hall, and Charles Moore.

1. Jimm Gumm totaled over one thousand yards rushing. 2. The Eagles scored one of their three touchdowns.

Girls Vie for District Title

Improving steadily game by game, the girl's basketball team completed a successful first half of the season. Boasting a 7-1 record the Eagles had wins over far more experienced teams, such as Lutheran and Duschene, and consistently defeated all district opposition. Finishing the half in first place, Pasadena appeared to be a strong contender for the district title.

Eagles Moved Into First

Winning the Lee College, Pasadena, and San Jacinto invitational tournaments, and compiling a 22-1 pre-district record, the Eagles entered district play an acclaimed state power. Deer Park, Pasadena's first opponent and defending district champion, emerged as a confident and accomplished foe. Last minute stalling tactics and accurate shooting secured the game and the sole possession of first place in district for the Eagles.

1. Mark Keller moved into position. 2. Fritz Connally shot over two Deer Park defenders. 3. Mark Keller looked for an open man.

1. Raymond Kingsbury outjumped his opponent. 2. Brian Hacker and Raymond Kingsbury awaited the outcome of a shot. 3. Lanny Armstrong searched for an open man. 4. Fritz Connally scored two more points. 5. Donald Bryant went for the basket. 6. The Eagles got their offense into gear.

Cagers Won in District Play

Coming off their win with Deer Park, the Eagles defeated La Porte before losing a tough one to Clear Creek. Despite a loss to Clear Lake, Pasadena beat South Houston, Dobie, and Rayburn to complete a successful first half of the season. With a 5-2 district record, and a 28-3 season record, the Eagles remained a major threat for the district title in the season's second half.

Eagles Attained District Honors

As the district race developed into a tight second half, the '76 Eagles suffered important losses to Deer Park and Clear Lake, ending their hopes for entering the playoffs. Despite the defeats the Cagers raced ahead of the other city teams, finishing their games with a win over Sam Rayburn, a season total of 33-5 and a district total of 10-4. Fritzie Connally and Kenny Whitworth were named First Team All-District, and Bryan Hacker and Mark Keller were named Honorable Mention Players. Fritzie Connally was also named Outstanding Player of the district.

1. Mark Eisman confused the passer. 2. Kenny Whitworth drove to the basket. 3. A Deer Park player reached for the rebound as Fritzie Connally guarded the basket.

Fielders Won in Tournament Play

Strong hitting combined with a quick defense enabled the '76 Varsity Baseball team to capture first place in the Beaumont Tournament. Competing in other tournaments and practice games, Pasadena chalked up many wins against few losses.

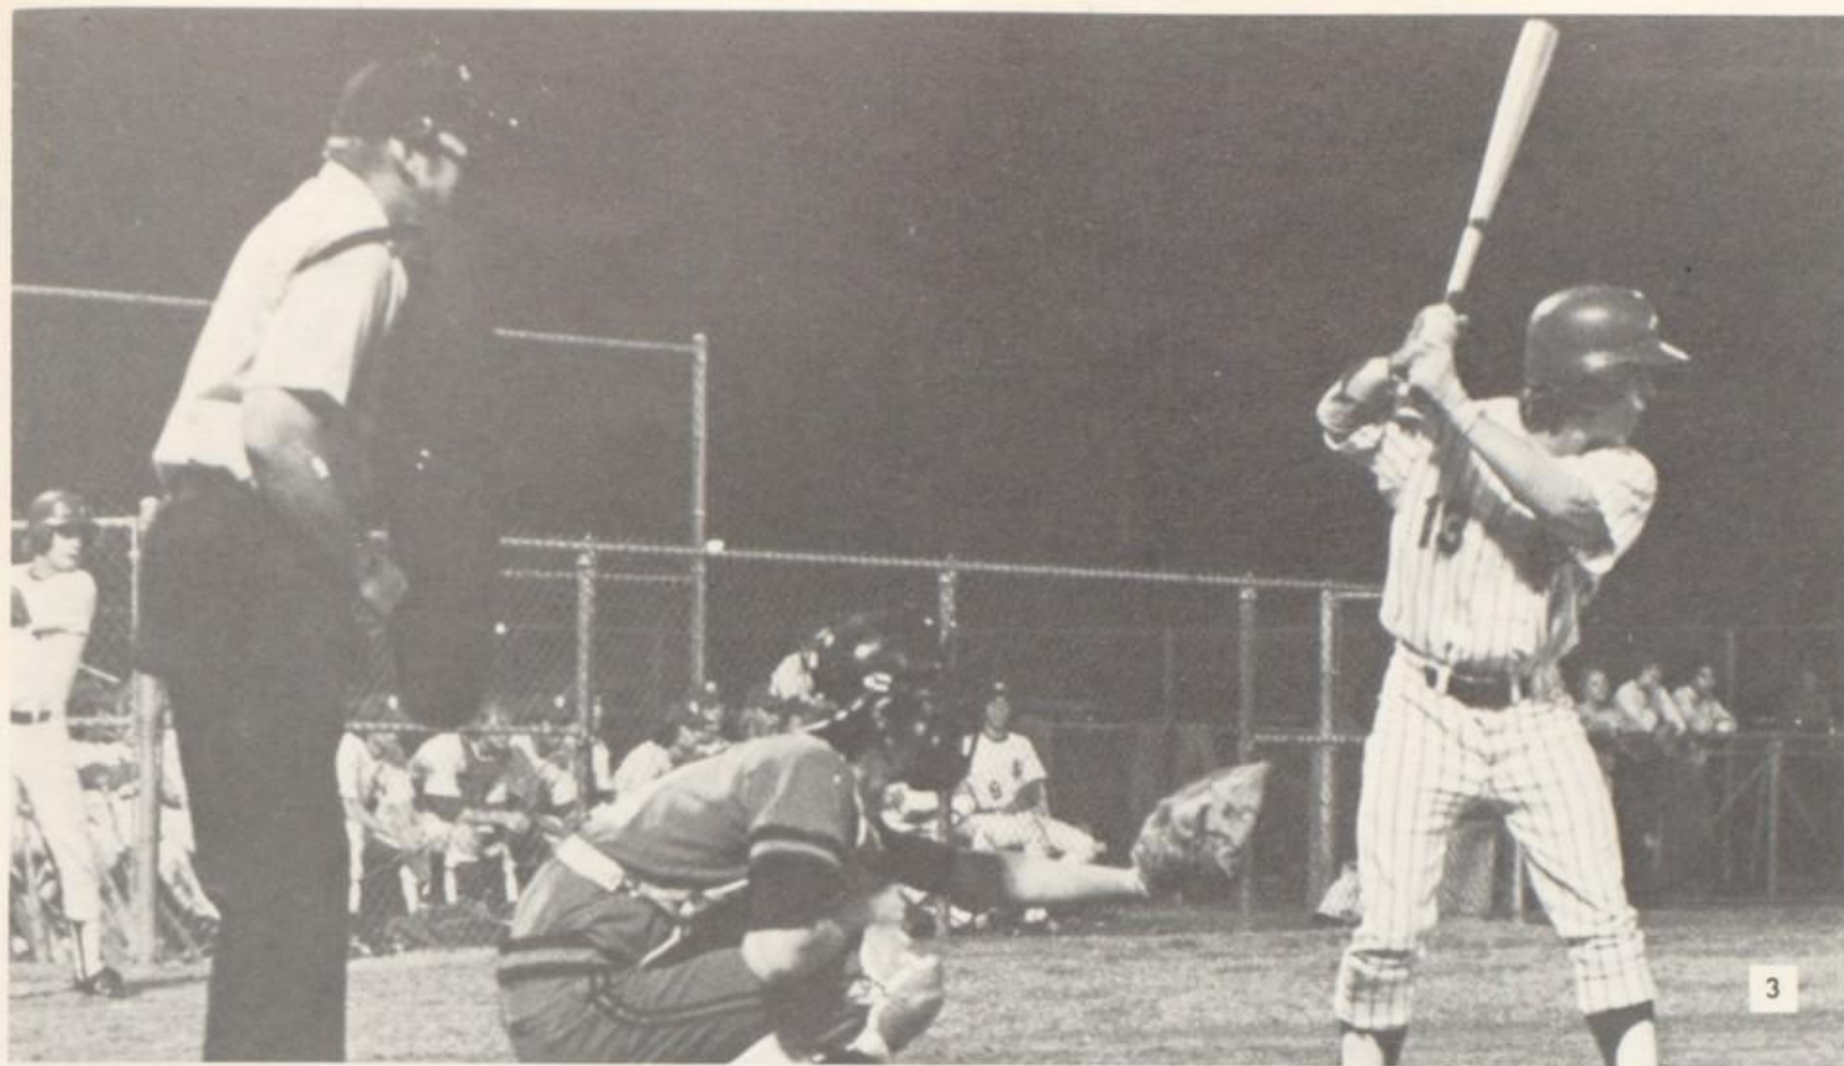

1. R. Draper tried to hold up his swing. 2. K. Harrison heads for first base. 3. K. Harrison tries to avoid the tag. 4. T. Gier fires a pitch.

Eagles Moved Into First Place

Gaining momentum with every game, the baseball team ended the first half of district play in a three way tie. Losses to South Houston and Clear Lake struck out the team's hopes for an outright lead. In the last game of the half, Pasadena defeated Sam Rayburn which secured the Eagles of a head start in the second-round play.

1. T. Gier checked the runner before delivering the pitch. 2. L. Sladeczek held the runner close. 3. R. Ledbetter awaited the pitch. 4. F. Connally completed the play at first. 5. M. Keller prepared for a hit. 6. F. Connally awaited the pitch.

Eagles Clinched Second Place

Tough district competition left the Eagles one step behind Deer Park. Errors and questionable calls plagued the team although they remained City Champs despite a final loss to Rayburn.

1. R. Draper helped get the Eagles' attack going. 2. P. Harrison awaited the pitch. 3. E. Perrera lashed out a hit. 4. C. James hit back to first safely. 5. C. Show anxiously awaited the outcome of the pitch.

Eagles Competed in District

Participating in several tournaments, a young varsity volleyball team developed their skills and gained valuable experience. Despite finishing low in district, the team had several wins, and eagerly awaited next year's competition.

Varsity: Top Row: L. Williams, Coach Cheryl Northam, L. Williams. Second Row: B. Brown, E. Maguire, D. Alvarado, C. Faircloth, M. Hunter, G. Guinn, T. Hall. Bottom Row: S. Dugat, P. Holloway, M. Maguire.

1. Gigi Guinn smashed a serve. 2. Mary Hunter set up Tina Hall. 3. Cindy Faircloth spiked for the point. 4. "Bump it!" 5. The Eagles awaited the return.

JV Gained Experience

Grim determination made up for a lack of experience, as the JV volleyball team squeaked out a fourth place finish. Several outstanding wins brought the season success, and proved valuable "confidence-builders" for next year's varsity.

Track Team Excelled in Meets

Memories of early morning practices and strained muscles disappeared as the girl tracksters excelled in meet after meet. Individual achievement along with team effort aided the girls who had yet another goal, the Regional track meet.

1. The hurdles developed into a close race. 2. Nikki Harrison eagerly prepared for her next race.

Girls Captured Championship

Breaking away from the standard boys' track, the girls' athletic abilities shone in the first year of the girls' track team. Taking the City Championship, Pasadena defeated Rayburn, South Houston, and Dobie, falling only to far more experienced teams.

1. Pasadena came in a close second behind Clear Creek. 2. G. Cain raced into the regionals. 3. D. Larned strained for first. 4. R. Delaney rested her weary feet. 5. B. Potts made an all out effort for first.

1. Mr. and Miss PHS — Martin Cominsky and Janet Valverde. 2. Martin conferred with Mr. Keller on the way to a Rotarian luncheon. 3. Something caught Janet's attention during a football pep rally.

Government Experienced at State

With the motto "learn by doing," boys' and girls' state representatives experienced an "exercise of democracy" during their week long program. Modeled after Texas' government, participants filed and campaigned for city, county, and state offices before the voters elected the best candidate. In the latter part of the week, the winners met with their respective government officials and discussed the problems and situations faced every day with governmental duties.

1. left to right: Students elected Lana Huffman and Mitch Pearson as representatives with Patricia Armstrong and Charlie Jones as alternates. 2. Patty Beauchemin placed second in the state competition of headline writing. 3. left to right, Top to Bottom: Students that advanced to Regionals included: Carl Williams, Byron Stilwell, Theresa Comeaux, Patty Beauchemin, Reesa Hedrick, and James Vanderwilt. ## Librarians Booked Students

Students relied on the library to furnish resources for research papers, books for enjoyment, and such facilities as the xerox machine and typewriters. In a time of need the librarians were ready and eager to help with a lost student. They also took on duties of shelving books, keeping up with overdue and lost books, and ordering new books for each student's benefit.

1. Thad Clacker initiated his campaign for school principal. 2. "Brad, I know this will come as a shock, but giraffe does not begin with a 'j'." 3. Mrs. McCart acted as head nurse.

"It Hurts Here"

Headaches, backaches, earaches, and toothaches contributed to a nurse's full day. Singed by bunsen burners or nicked by over eager cake cutters, students retreated to the clinic to demand medical attention.

Cooks and Crew Kept Campus

The cafeteria ladies and custodians played "behind the scenes" on campus. Pride and extra hours of work kept our school clean and comfortable. Smiles and hot food greeted students when the lunch bell rang.

Rusty Bridges played the part of Napoleon in French. 4. French and German students set projects up for display. 5. Dale and Neal Crosby performed a skit in German class.

Variety Proved the Spice of Life

Adding an international flavor to celebrations of our nation's birthday, foreign language classes provided an insight which exemplified America's reputation for being the melting pot of the world. German classes displayed their creativity by entertaining themselves with skits. Siestas were uncommon as Spanish classes held a traditional piñata breaking and celebrated Mexican Independence day while most French students' activities revolved around the State French Symposium making it a success. Others found time to learn folk dancing and prepare French food in class.

Senior Spirit Came Alive

With visions of the prom and graduation, the "Spirit of '76" invaded the halls and classrooms. Determined to make every game, every weekend and party a happening, Seniors became the heartbeat of school pride.

Students Enjoyed Change

A new dress code brought about a feeling of freedom and relaxation. Seniors took advantage of the much desired revision, and spirits soared higher than ever.

1. 'Beauty and the beast?' 2. "Your pants are too short." 3. Mr. Bains had trouble adjusting to the new dress code.

Seniors Flashed S.O.S.

Seniors of '76 became the Spirit of '76 as a new club organized itself exclusively for Seniors. Holding poster parties, cheering at pep rallies, and aftergame dances kept S.O.S. busy throughout the year.

Sales Elevated Funds

Anxious to be on top of any situation, the Seniors of '76 finagled their final fund-raising fandango early in the year. Chocolate bars satisfied everyone's sweet tooth as $2000 in sales produced the largest treasury ever.

Government Staged Trial Trial

A mock trial set up in Government B classes showed students actual courtroom procedures. A judge, a bailiff, and even a twelve man jury enhanced the feeling of a real trial.

Seniors Said "Sit on Sam"

Rayburn Week, an illustrious and reputable football season occurrence, produced an all time peak in school pride and slumber parties. Trips to the local hamburger joint for ninety free tacos and the senior girls bike ride provided only part of the evening's, or morning's, entertainment.

1. "You blew it, Siegner." 2. "S-S-P-P-I-I-R-R-I-I-T-T Train." 3. "Burn Sam, burn." 4. Gary Rascoe recovered three fumbles. 5. Various expressions displayed emotions as Senior girls sang their last Alma Mater. 6. The senior girls' slumber party finally caught up with Brenda Kelley. 7. "Good, better, best." 8. Students fired it up. 9. "A left at Jackson? I thought you said take a Right!"

Talent Took the Lead

Songs, dances, and skits all came alive as the 1975-76 Senior Talent show aroused fun and laughter for not only its viewers, but also its cast. The show reflected the climate of excitement and energy that already existed in the student body.

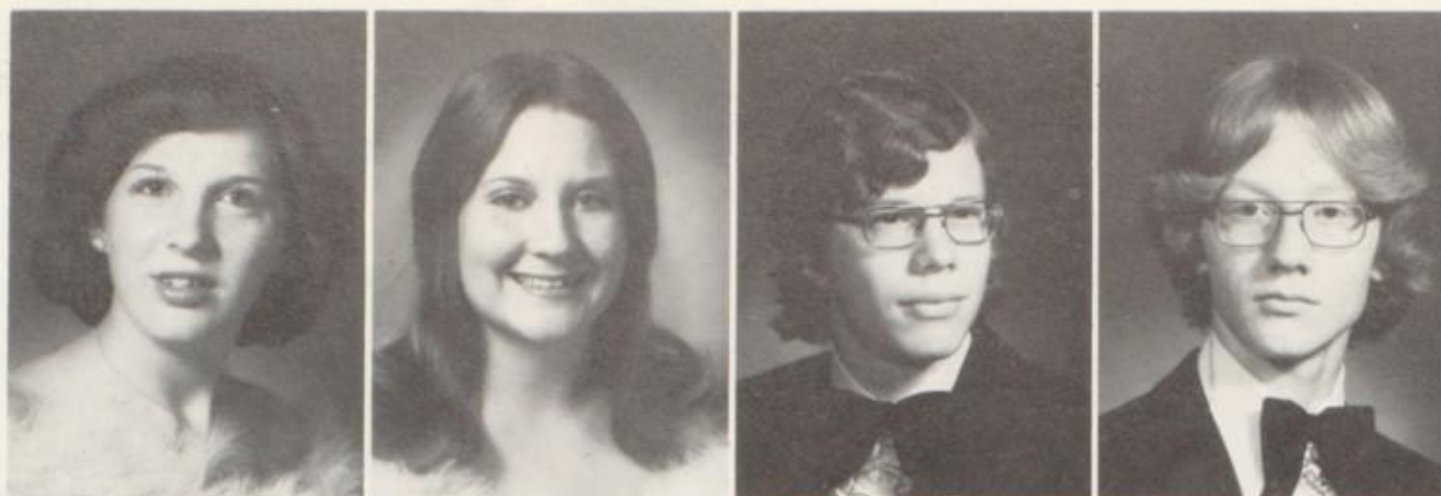

1. Jeanne Goen accompanied Dean Quinn with an amazing feat of magic. 2. "Hi, guys!" 3. The senior members of the football team proved just as talented on the stage as on the field. 4. Sharon Lewis was Hugh James' "Teen Angel." 5. Gladys Day and the Dips. 6. "Um Um, excuse me sir." 7. "We always do it nice, and rough." 8. The senior girls of the A Cappella Choir mellowed the audience with "Traces." 9. Master of ceremonies, Jerry Shults interviewed special guest Steven Johnson.

Seniors Chose Favorites

Honored as favorites of their senior class, Pam Goodwin and Bart Dansby proved outstanding examples of good sportsmen and amiable students. Some of Bart's most outstanding accomplishments include serving as student body Vice-President, and being named to Who's Who. Pam's high scholastic record earned her the honor of membership in NHS, Mu Alpha Theta, and numerous academic excellence awards.

1. Senior class favorites: Bart Dansby and Pam Goodwin. 2. Bart Dansby was pitcher for the "Wild Turkeys." 3. Pam Goodwin helped index the yearbook.

Juniors Moved On

Capitalizing on mistakes from the past, juniors soared into the realm of being upper classmen. Looking back, they saw the many stones that made their way rough, made them stumble, made them weak. Ahead, though, they imagined a path smoothed by past experiences. A path easier to walk upon, easier to move ahead. The seniors of 77. "Movin' on."

Vocational Studies Opened Jobs

By working with their hands to learn a professional trade, juniors concentrated upon being tomorrow's craftsmen. They sawed, shampooed, and welded themselves into a new life. These vocations returned many benefits and offered great opportunities for the future.

Campaign Posters Prevailed

In a flash, signs, posters, and even self-portraits engulfed the halls and snatched the eye of prospective voters. Although limited funds became mandatory, the hopeful candidates used all available resources in order to relay their message into classmates' minds. The election results caused many disappointed candidates, but good attitudes arose in the comeback — "Just wait till next year!"

"Say 'Cheese,' Please"

Long, long lines, and the ever present "unidentified" section did not inhibit the turn-out at the sale of student pictures. "Ooh's," "Ah's" and an occasional "uh! oh!" filled the air as juniors took their first glimpses into the picture filled packets. Through the passing of time, students realized the pictures they bought became the purchase of a memory.

When the '75 sports season opened, girls entered into traditionally male-oriented sports. Basketball and track offered new experiences, whereas in the past, men closed the doors. The pre-season training and overwhelming participation made women athletes out of yesterday's high school girls.

Ghouls Haunted the Halls

Ghouls and goblins escaped from their shadowy graves and haunted the earth at the stroke of midnight on Halloween.

Juniors celebrated the festive occasion in many ways and each kept watch for the ghosts and witches flying across the sky.

They partied and just handed out treats, but everyone shared the enjoyments of delicious Halloween candy.

Pastries Enhanced Shopping

Weekend after weekend, a sweet aroma filled stores where juniors displayed their cakes and pies.

The sale of delicious pastries involved help from each homeroom to reach the needed goal for their fun-filled junior year. Its success depended solely upon the determination of each junior to "Sell! Sell! Sell!"

Everyone's Gone Kikker

The days of the Ol' West invaded juniors with the rise in progressive county's popularity. Kikker boots, kikk-up trucks and "Redneck Mother" played significant roles in their lives.

The sudden popularity of blue jeans and western shirts and the extremists' ten-gallon hats, cowboy boots, and pick-up trucks exemplified the new craving for the outdoorsman's type of life.

Two Juniors Honored

As the school year came to a close, juniors honored Lana Huffman and Charlie James with the title of Favorites. Serving as Historian for the Junior class and FTA, Lana enjoyed singing and teaching piano, while Charlie excelled in athletics, achieving letters in both Varsity football and baseball. Although from two separate fields of interest, their personality plus gained them the honor of Junior Class Favorites.

1. Lana Huffman prepared for the Choir's annual Christmas Concert. 2. The many thoughts (elbow in, leg extended) rushed through Charlie James' mind as he concentrated upon the approaching ball. 3. Run-off votes required great attention to decide the best favorite.

Reflections

Reflections.
Flowing fountains
bubbling with energy.
Still streams, quiet and solitary.
Windows into the past which burst forth in brilliant colors, fading into the calmness of the moon's soft and tender light.
Stairways leading to the future,
ascending beyond heights
never before encountered, or falling into depths, lower than man dreamed possible.
Decisions of dark and dim, bright and beautiful, shattered the glassy streams, leaving only the shell of its body behind, but Juniors broke free and headed forward, beyond their goal.
The Seniors of '77
Movin' on.

The proverbial worm did not seem as appealing to early bird sophomores who faced morning classes. The privileged few with study hall regained lost sleep for eighty minutes, while the less fortunate depended on the stimulation of English and math to keep them alert.

Grade Point Averages

Gained Weight

Premium point courses enabled many sophomores to accelerate in certain fields. Mathematically inclined students tackled geometry and algebra 3 while the science oriented experimented in chemistry. Excelling in these classes entailed a maximum of study allowing these students a small amount of prestige and a fatter grade point average.

Tickets Totaled Up

By sharpening rusty sales techniques, sophomores undertook their first money making project of the year. Distant visions of a prom and banquet prompted students to peddle carwash tickets to friends and family, adding $1000 to their class treasury.

Yule Spirit Surrounded Sophs

The sounds of holiday merriment mixed with the jingle of money as sophomores joined the Christmas rush into the job market. Students soon realized the ability to give meant forfeiting the preferred seasonal celebration to less desired hours of hard work. The old saying "tis better to give than to receive" remained undaunted as the weekly paycheck represented the true spirit of Christmas.

Students Learned To Cook

In Home Ec

Though available to the male population, homemaking classes maintained an almost all-female enrollment. Those with the "woman's touch" practiced domestic arts such as sewing and cooking, while those adventurous few planning to stay single learned to balance a budget and cook for one. Students increased both their wardrobe and their taste for good food as rewards of this class promised to last a lifetime.

Sophs Felt a Driving Force

Sophomores felt a growing sense of independence as the standard driving test followed their sixteenth birthday. With this preliminary out of the way, most students then concentrated on pleading for their very own mode of transportation.

Sophomores Acknowledged the Past

Sophomores with an interest in journalism involved themselves in a new publication as the historical magazine, Espiritu, evolved on campus. Staffers explored and sifted through countless leads while unearthing buried facts about the Pasadena-Gulf Coast region. Whether expressing their talents through the eye of a camera or by the magic of pen and paper students contributed their all to make Espiritu a bicentennial first for our area.

Students Sang 'Silver and Gold'

Thrown at the mercy of unfeeling computers during the final class change of the year, pals on campus hoped for classes, or at least a lunch period in common. Relationships begun during the second trimester thrived as the fortunate received similar schedules. Others, stationed at opposite ends of the campus continued their friendships by notes, phone calls, and encounters in the hall. Thrust in a new situation, students grew into new relationships while still treasuring the old.

Sophomore Soirée Chased Away Monotony of Pre-Summer Days

Industrious sophomores combined business with pleasure as they sponsored an all school party, representing their second fund raising attempt of the year. Students and teachers alike bumped and boogied to the music of Spectrum, while sophomores reaped the rewards of the evening, adding $500 to their already swollen treasury.

1. Dean Quinn practiced the 'Hustle.' 2. Mr. and Mrs. Vlahakos "tripped the light fantastic." 3. Spectrum colored everyone's world.

Sophomores Favored by Classmates

Selected by their peers, Anna Kallus and Bill Purvis reigned as sophomore favorites for the class of '78. Active in sports and other activities, both students displayed an enthusiastic and "fun to be around" personality that made the underclassmen's choice a justifiable one.

1. Anna Kallus participated in a biology lab. 2. Sophomore favorites were Anna Kallus and Bill Purvis. 3. Spring training was a must for Bill Purvis.

Freshmen Felt at Home

By questioning the past, freshmen soon discovered the answers to many of their new and disturbing surroundings. Keeping pace with their companions, they soon settled down into high school life.

Counselors Aided Underclassmen

In the confusion and responsibilities of high school life, freshmen often found comfort in their class counselor. He not only aided them in straightening out hectic schedules but befriended lonely freshmen who were completely lost in their new and unfamiliar surroundings.

1. "What do you mean I sat on a tack?"
 2. Mr. Anthony and Mrs. Simmons discussed the end of school. 3. "Of course I don't mind being in a boy's gym class!"

P.E. Provided Pleasure

Finding a place to release their tensions proved an uneasy task for most freshmen. Physical education guaranteed them a relaxed atmosphere, and being out of doors contributed to their physical fitness. Eighty minutes of intramural sports absorbed their attentions while allowing them to break away from the stress of school.

Lunch Bunch Munched

Hunger pains overruled crowded halls as eager young freshmen strived to reach lunch lines ahead of their older and more experienced classmates. Cries of "slow down" went unheeded when the Seniors of '79 heard the sound they had been waiting to hear. The bell released them to thirty minutes of food and relaxation from the everyday boredom of their individual classes.

Spirit Soared

Although visions of their future prom were still unclear, freshmen realized that these dreams would someday become reality. The Seniors of '79 worked diligently on selling their first money making project: Spirit. Unrelentingly hard working frosh tried their own selling techniques on parents, neighbors and upperclassmen.

1. Kelly Connally conned Mr. Matthews into buying his money making project.

Frosh Treasured Friendships

When the doors of high school opened, freshmen entered into a world of responsibility, often feeling alone and confused. They realized the value of their old friendships and treasured the adventures of new ones. Frosh reached out into new dimensions of life, never letting go of the familiarities of secure surroundings.

Freshmen Chose Likeable Pair

Starting their high school years off with a bang, Mellisa White and Henry McGlaughlin were chosen by the Freshmen as class favorites. Participating in various clubs and sports activities, they incessantly showed the spiritfule and outgoing personality which reflected that of the Freshman class.

in all my freshman year

1. Student Council members Bart Dansby and John Hambrick sold iron-on patches at the information booth. 2. Lisa Williams recited "Columbus" as part of a dramatic presentation. 3. The Star Spangled Banner hung proudly in the center of the Astrohall. 4. Senior Jeanne Goen gazed at the fountain in the center of the Spanish display. 5. Mrs. Willets and her student assistants displayed math projects. 6. A multi-tiered cake was the focal point of the exhibit hall.

Youth Fair Encouraged Involvement

Long aisles filled with eye-catching displays offered special insight into various phases of our nation's history to the hundreds of people who attended the Bicentennial Youth Fair in the Astrohall.

May 14-16, visitors had an opportunity to view exhibits from every department of education, each relating in some way to 200 years of progress in America. The fair, given by and for students from all over Texas, constituted the biggest project of its kind in the nation.

1. Jeanne Goen and Brenda Kelly worked at the Strawberry Festival selling espíritu. 2. Joy Manousos fled from a tackle in powder puff. 3. Kelly Bell expressed his talent in ballet. 4. Reesa Hedrick sold espíritu at the Strawberry Festival. 5. Debbie Whitson listened to coaching instructions from John Hambrick. 6. Drama classes entered the field of abstract make-up. 7. Ron Creal captured a glance of a clown at the radio parade. 8. "Where's the phantom of the auditorium?"

Zaniness Cured Boredom

Students escaped the dreariness of reading, 'riting, and 'rithmetic through creativity and zany antics. From theatre make-up to an afternoon in cut-offs, classes added variety and fun to school life.

Moods Created Restlessness

Wondrous . . . concentration . . . amazement . . .
 loneliness . . . zestiness . . . the moods of youth provided day to day variations to the trials and tribulations of life.
 Deadlines . . . rehearsals . . . Strawberry Festival
 . . . Senior day . . . Astrohall . . . as the end of the year approach, different emotions swept over the school.

1. An empty campus created a silent mood. 2. Warm days provided a pleasant outdoor moment for upperclassmen. 3. Tommy Kelley demonstrated his enjoyment for Skoal. 4. Powder puff football provided fun for Nancy Bacon and Diane Christ. 5. "How do you translate this in French?" 6. Elizabeth Scruggs stood in wonderment at the Strawberry Festival. 7. Junior Mitch Peairson took a break from a busy day.

Good going, Graduate.

Graduate. That sounds good. And it is good, for you've accomplished something very important. Through seemingly endless months of homework, tests and term papers, you've shown your ability to make the grade. And you've helped prepare yourself for a more rewarding future.

Whether you plan to begin your career, or continue your education, we congratulate you on your achievement.

1. Patty Beauchemin and Martin Cominsky stepped out in high style. 2. The Senior Class theme of 1976. 3. John Cook and Doylena Johnson read the class prophecy. 4. Mandy Collier shed tears of joy as she became "Miss Personality Plus." 5. Ronnie Zimmer and Susan Hamilton signed the guest list in the foyer of the Grand Ballroom. 6. Bunny Smith, Marla Woodliff, and Melanie Harrell, admired each other's corsages. 7. Robert Hendrickson became the first to receive the honor of "Who's Who." 8. Excitement and joy filled the faces of Leslie Rasco, Ronda Gardner, and Charlene Wilkerson during the announcement of Senior Spotlight. 9. Lee Rodriguez prepared to take pictures before the prom. 10. David Scruggs accepted his Who's Who award. 11. "Oh no! A worm!"

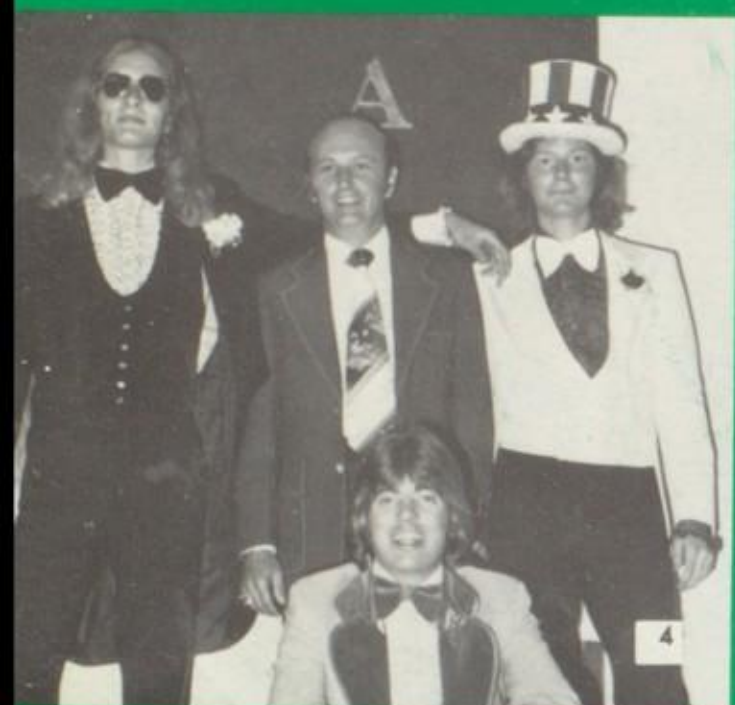

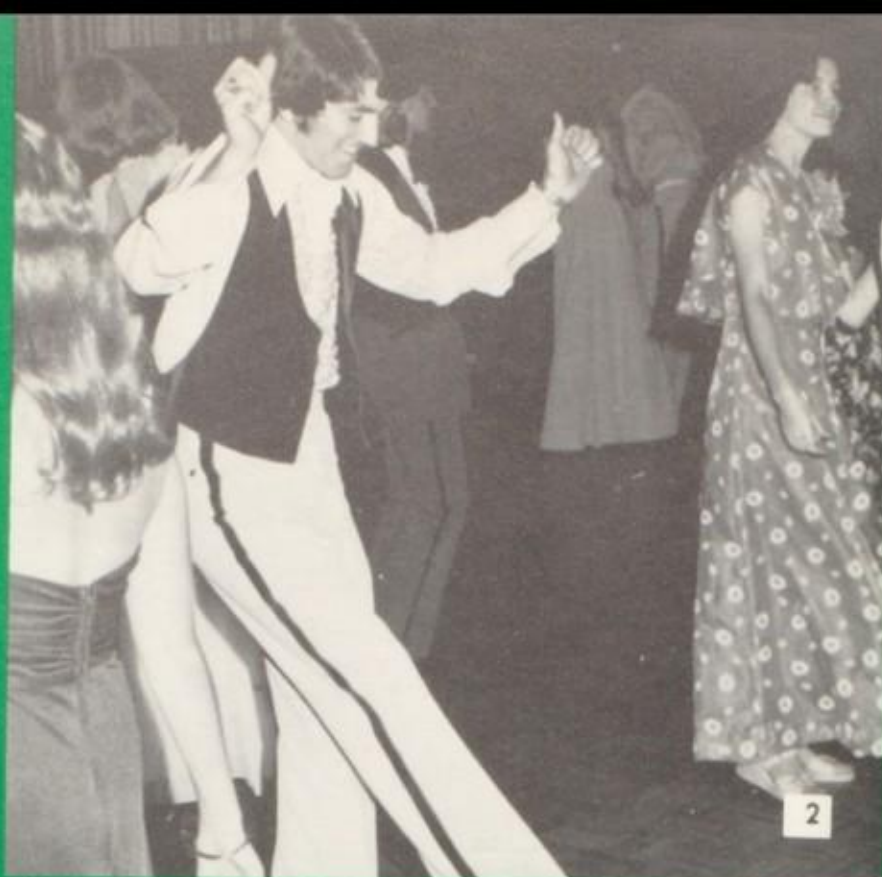

An evening of sparkle and excitement had only begun as seniors began dancing to the music of "River City" and "Spectrum." While they reminisced of good times they had shared together, seniors clasped hands and sang "Our Last Song Together."

1. From the inside out, one viewed the actions of the prom. 2. John Siegner displayed his talent. 3. Seniors danced to the music of "River City" and "Spectrum." 4. Seniors and other people. 5. Students waited in line for their buffet dinner. 6. Jennifer Pearson and Ronda Gardner sang the class song. 7. Sandy Jones tells Joe Lira, "That's the way to do it." 8. Rebecca Williams gave a sigh of relief. 9. Mr. Jim Lewis danced the night away. 10. Marla Woodliff enjoyed herself at the prom.

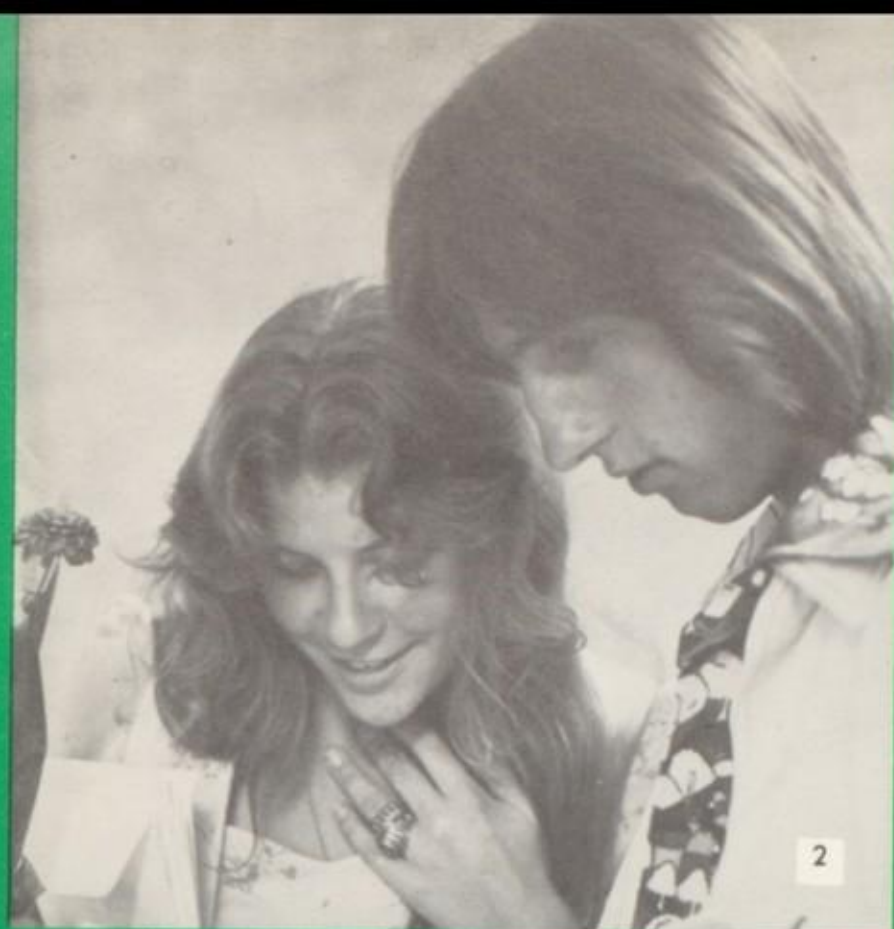

Senior day activities provided lasting memories, and an opportunity to be together one more time. After a dinner that had been specially prepared, Seniors attended their last assembly. A slide presentation of the class history, and the announcement of "Seniors Behind the Scenes" highlighted their senior year.

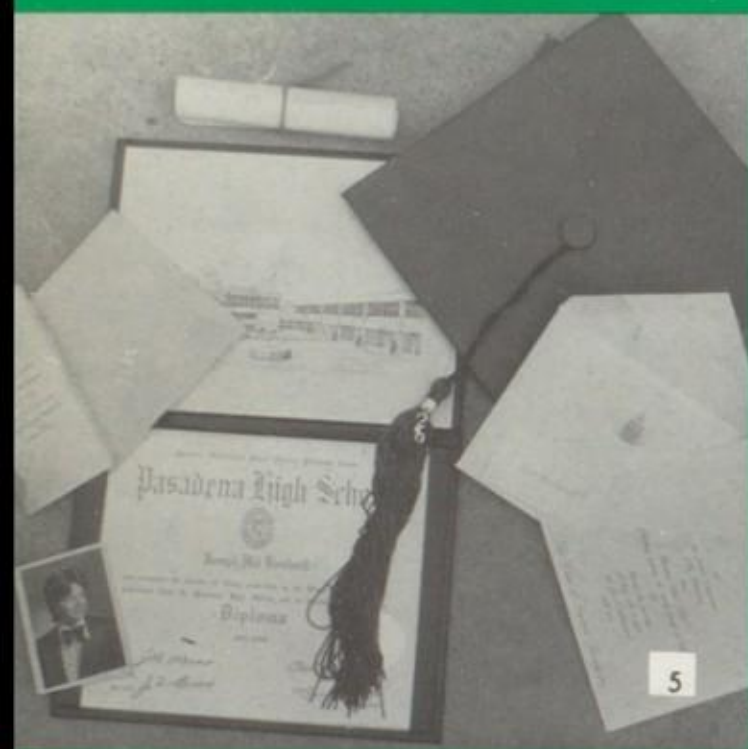

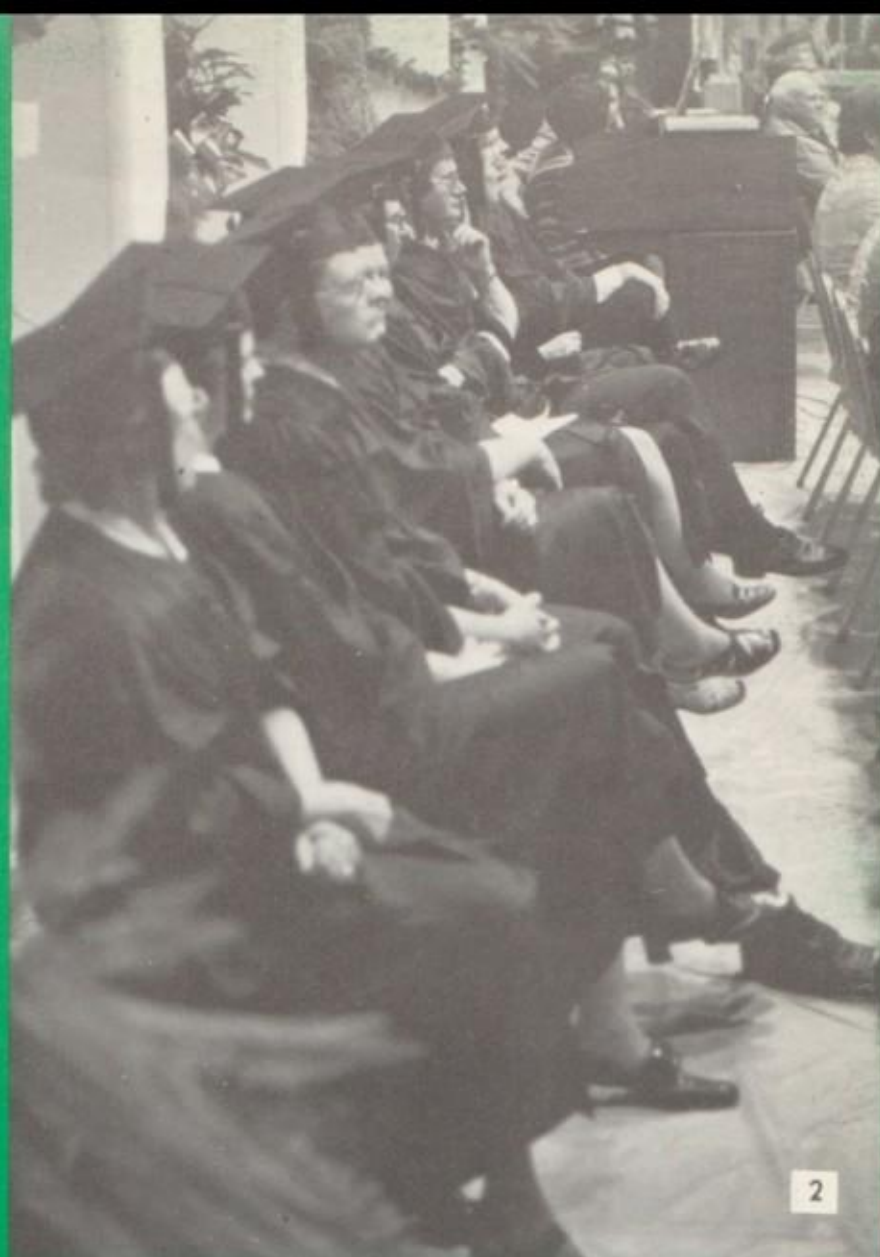

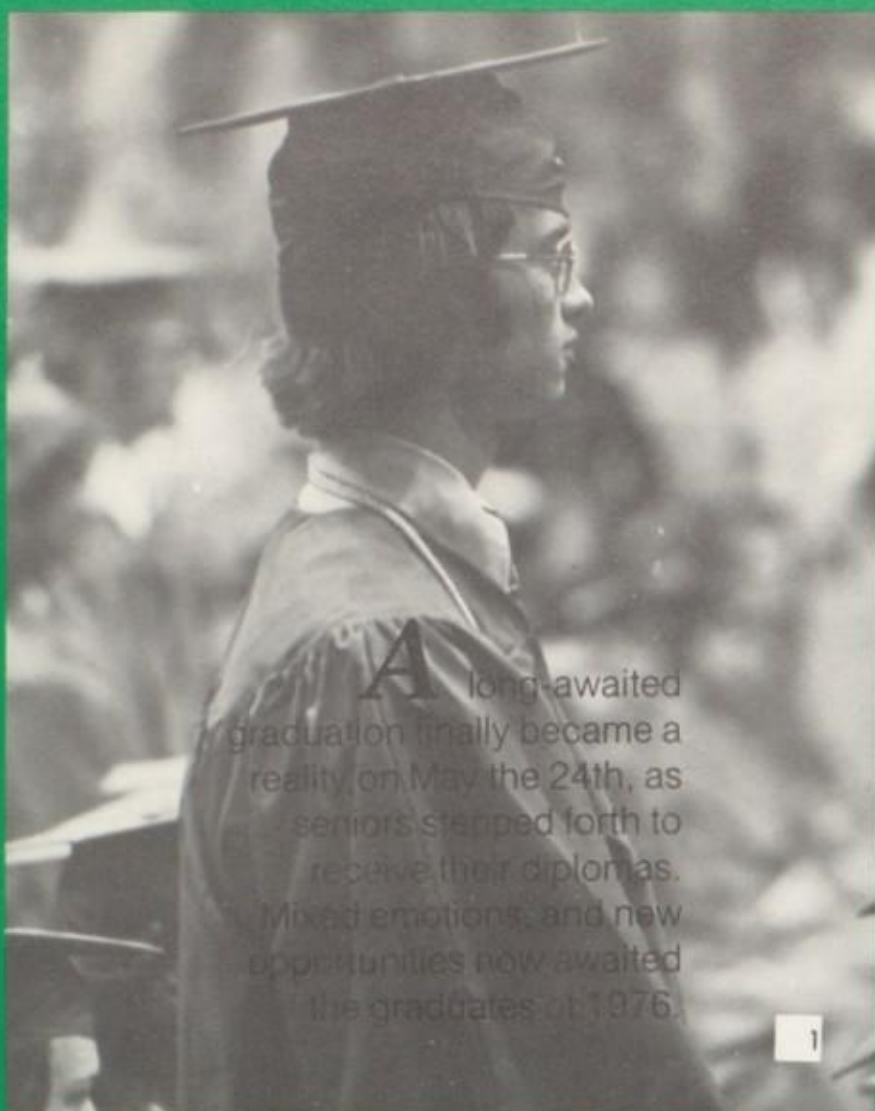

1. Senior members of the choir performed at the assembly. 2. Mary Lina admired Allen Slough's prom pictures. 3. Bart Dansby helped find his pictures. 4. Mrs. Jamison thanked the senior class. 5. Seniors stood in the lunch line for the last time. 6. Hal Bushnell took pics of Senior Day. 7. Brian Davis enjoyed his meal. 8. Bill Kielman and David Voloto took a leisurely stroll. 9. Seniors enjoyed the day's activities. 10. Margaret Tangedahl reached for the mashed potatoes.

1. Valedictorian, David Plaisance stood up as his name was called. 2. Homeroom teachers supported their students all the way. 3. Commencement speaker, David Scruggs, delivered his speech. 4. A typical example of an invitation. 5. Graduation memories of Hal Bushnell. 6. Bart Dansby received his diploma. 7. Robert Shuttlesworth couldn't believe he did it. 8. Members of the graduating class waited for their row to rise. 9. Duhhh! I don't know where my homeroom went. 10. Seniors conversed with Mr. Lewis until their name was called.

The time has come for us to close the door to our past, and open the door to our future. Many of our years past will now become memories. Memories of friends, togetherness, a rich spirit, and of love. The bad times must now be forgotten and the good times must be treasured. As we enter this door to the future, look back on the past twelve years with deep thought, for the good times . . .

Kelly Allbritton

We would also like to express our appreciation of and fondness for Mr. Terry Hance, Special Yearbook advisor — your smiles and headlines will never leave us.

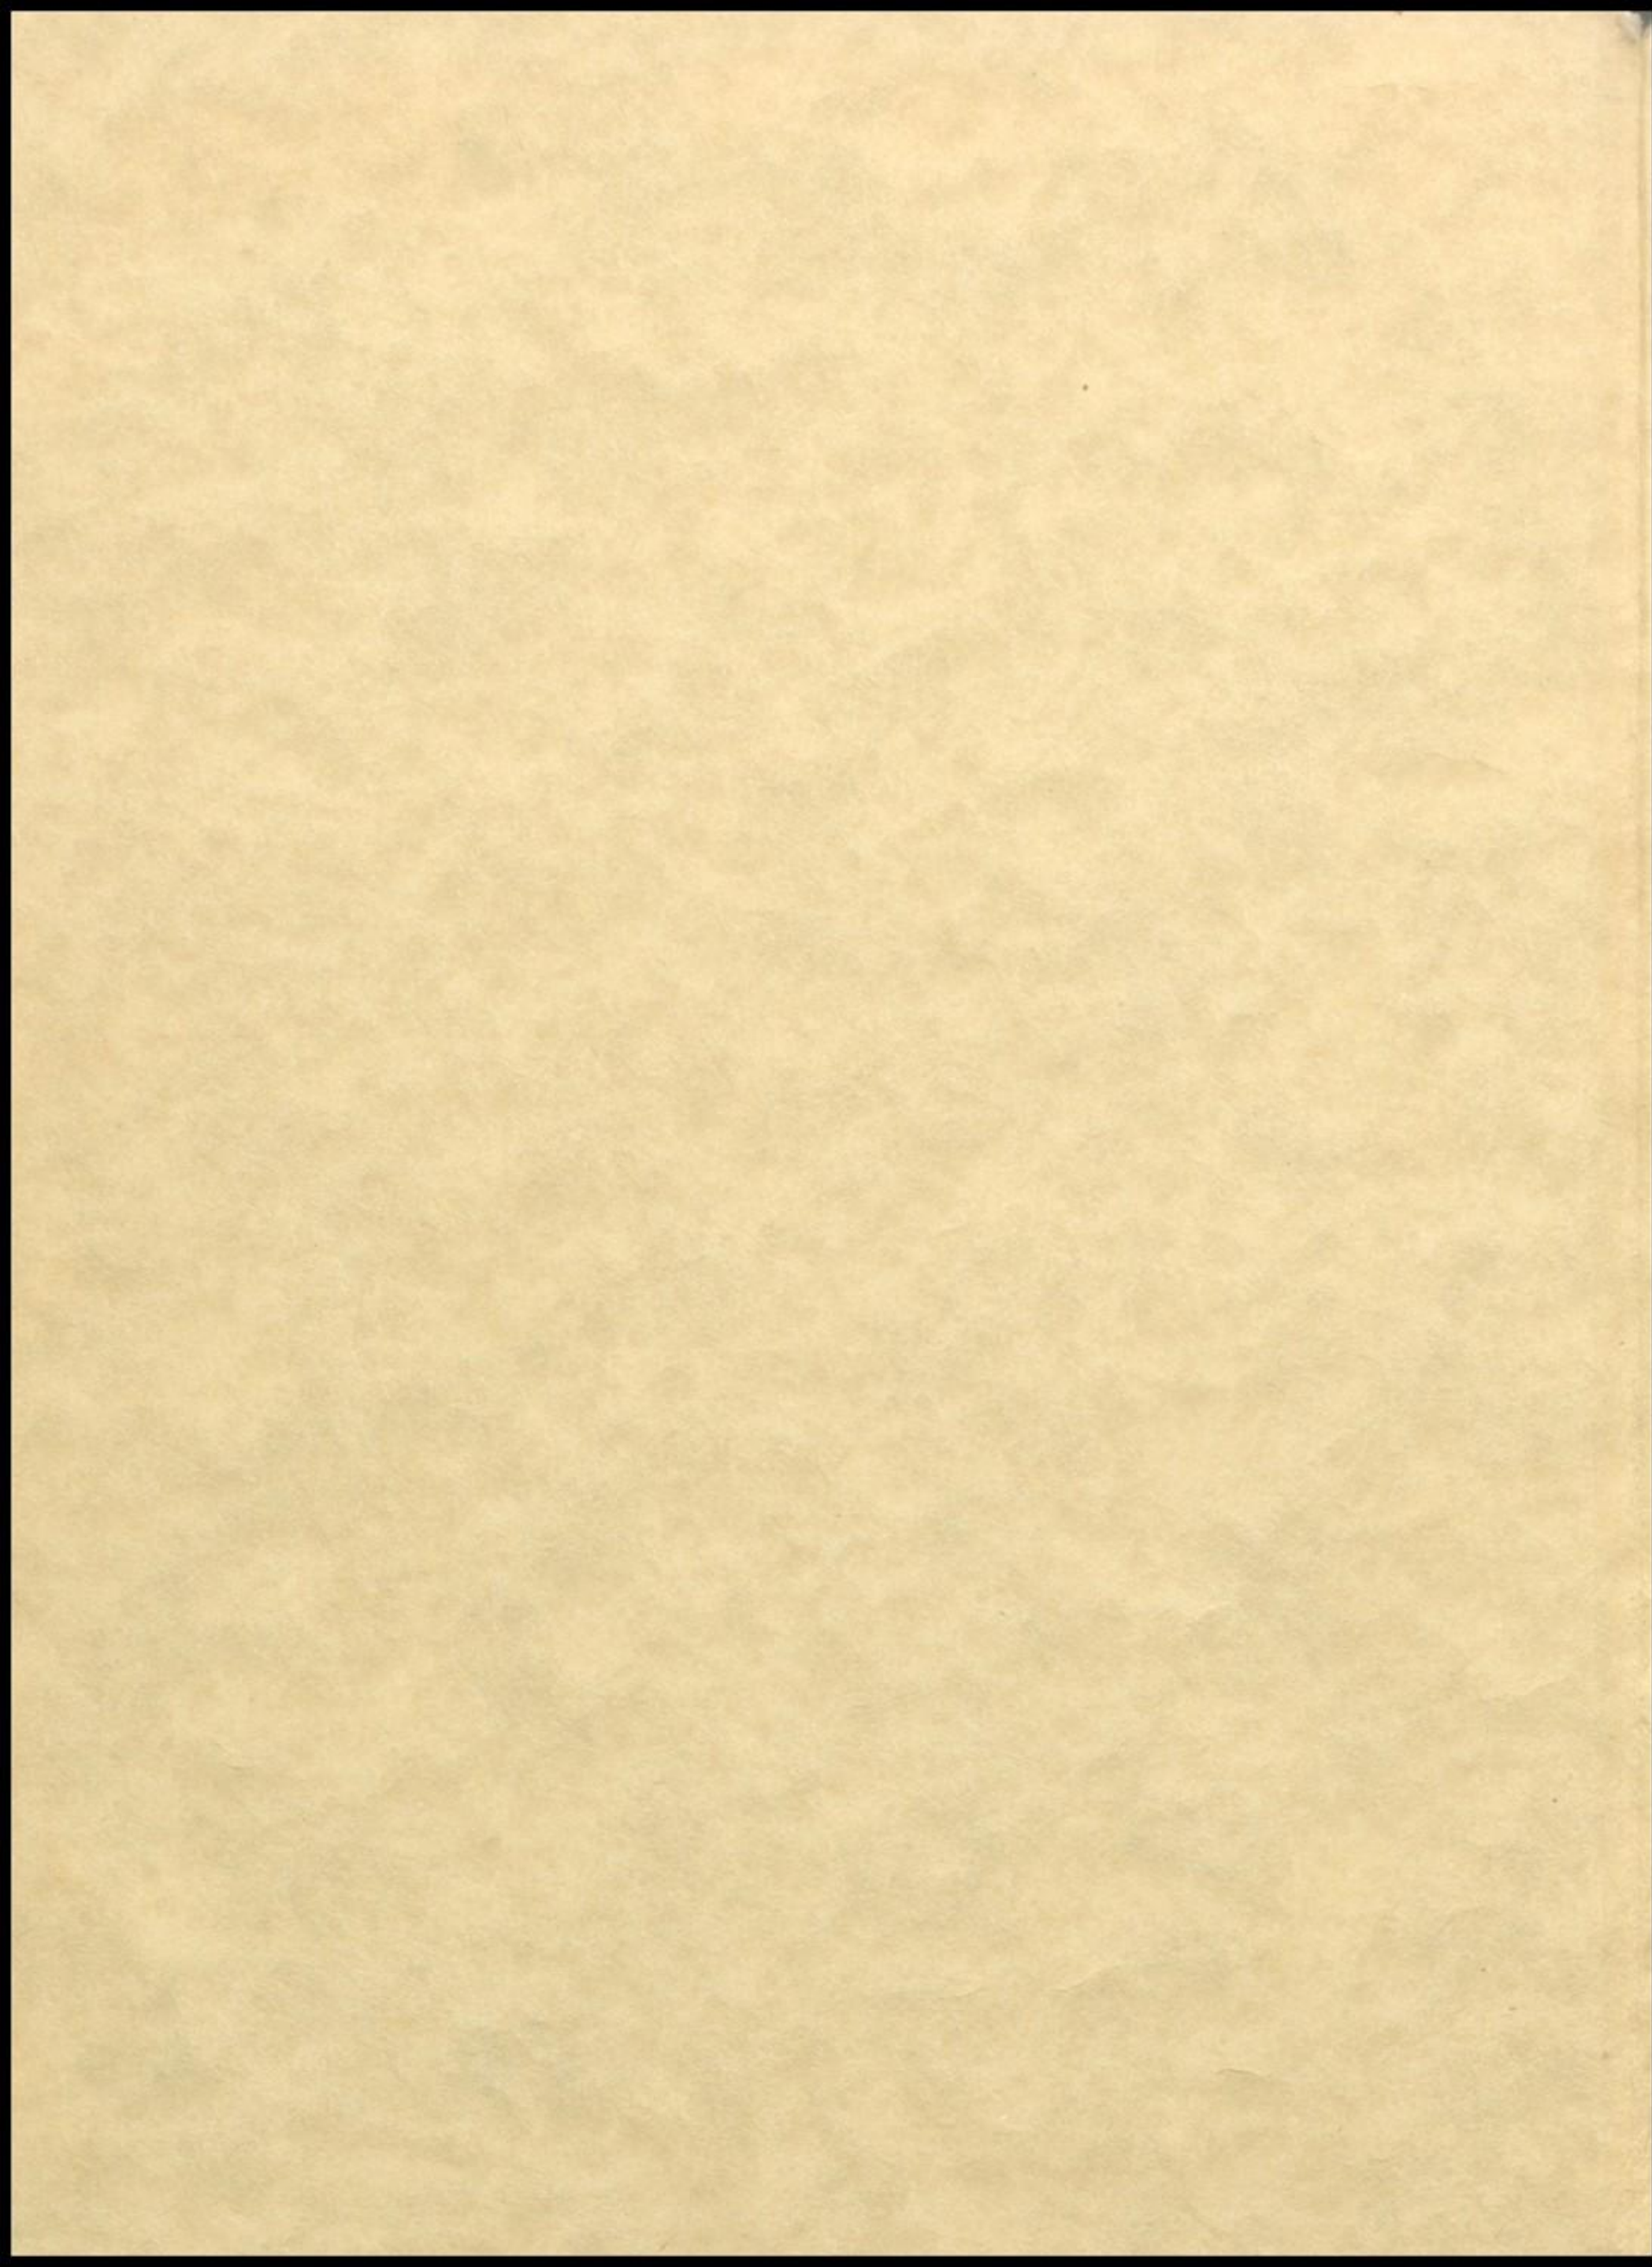

I waited so anxiously for the day when I would become a senior and when it came, I enjoyed it, but I'm glad it's over. I always want to remember the special things that made 1976 different from any other year. Here they are, the good and the bad, without distinction, for all posterity to view.
